UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

APOLLO GROUP, INC. and UNIVERSITY OF PHOENIX, INC.

Plaintiffs,

v.

CHEGG, INC., STUDENT OF FORTUNE, INC.,
DANIEL ROSENSWEIG, and SEAN MCCLEESE,

Defendants.

Case No.:

COMPLAINT AND JURY DEMAND

Plaintiffs, Apollo Group, Inc. ("Apollo") and University Of Phoenix, Inc. ("UOPX" and together with Apollo, the "Plaintiffs"), for their Complaint against Defendants Chegg, Inc. ("Chegg"), Student of Fortune, Inc. ("Student of Fortune"), Daniel Rosensweig ("Rosensweig") and Sean McCleese ("McCleese" and together with Chegg, Student of Fortune, and Rosensweig, the "Defendants"), allege as follows:

SUBSTANCE OF THE ACTION

This action concerns Defendants' violation of the exclusive rights held by Plaintiffs in copyrighted educational materials ("UOPX Copyrighted Educational Materials"), which Defendants reproduce, distribute, and publicly display through the website <http://www.studentoffortune.com>, a website that is, upon information and belief, owned and operated by Defendants (“Defendants’ Website”). In addition, because it solely serves Defendants’ financial interests, Defendants enable and encourage massive copyright infringement by the users of Defendants’ Website by paying substantial sums to users to reproduce, distribute, and publicly display Plaintiffs’ UOPX Copyrighted Educational Materials on Defendants’ Website.

As a result of Defendants’ ongoing and pervasive unlawful sales and actions, Plaintiffs have been forced to bring this action for willful copyright infringement under the Copyright Act of 1976, 17 U.S.C. § 101 et seq. Plaintiffs seek injunctive relief and damages as a result of Defendants’ direct, contributory, and vicarious copyright infringement of Plaintiffs’ exclusive reproduction, distribution, and public display rights in the UOPX Copyrighted Educational Materials.

PARTIES

1. Plaintiff Apollo is a corporation duly organized and existing under the laws of Delaware with its principal place of business at 4025 S. Riverpoint Parkway, Phoenix, Arizona 85040.

2. Plaintiff UOPX is a corporation duly organized and existing under the laws of Delaware with its principal place of business at 1625 West Fountainhead Parkway, Tempe, Arizona 85282.

3. Upon information and belief, defendant Chegg is a corporation duly organized and existing under the laws of Delaware with its principal place of business at 2350 Mission College Boulevard, Suite 1400, Santa Clara, California 95054.

4. Upon information and belief, defendant Student of Fortune is a limited liability company duly organized and existing under the laws of Delaware with its principal place of business at 2350 Mission College Boulevard, Suite 1400, Santa Clara, California 95054.

5. Upon information and belief, Student of Fortune was acquired by Chegg in 2011 and Chegg and/or Rosensweig are presently members of Student of Fortune.

6. Upon information and belief, defendant Rosensweig is an individual with offices at 2350 Mission College Boulevard, Suite 1400, Santa Clara, California 95054. Upon information and belief, Rosensweig is the Chief Executive Officer of Chegg and personally makes decisions regarding, participates in, directs, exercises control over, and benefits from Student of Fortune's infringing activities.

7. Upon information and belief, defendant McCleese is an individual with offices at 3172 Rubio Canyon Road, Altadena, California 91001. Upon information and belief, McCleese is the founder of Student of Fortune and is or has been the president and principal operator of Student of Fortune, personally making decisions regarding, participating in, directing, exercising control over, and benefitting from Student of Fortune's infringing activities.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

8. This is a civil action seeking damages and injunctive relief for copyright infringement under the copyright laws of the United States. Jurisdiction is therefore proper under 17 U.S.C. § 101 et seq., 28 U.S.C. § 1331, and 28 U.S.C. § 1338.

9. Personal jurisdiction over Defendants is proper. Defendants are conducting business in this District and committing unlawful acts in this State, including without limitation Defendants' copyright infringement, which causes harm in this State and District.

10. Upon information and belief, Defendants' marketing, distribution and/or sale of Defendants' products and services in New York constitute substantial contacts with the State of New York, such that Defendants may reasonably anticipate being brought into a New York court.

11. Upon information and belief, Defendants also operate one or more interactive websites by which Defendants solicit Internet users in New York for contact information so users in New York may register and interact with Defendants' Website to purchase goods and/or services.

12. This Court also has personal jurisdiction over Rosensweig because, upon information and belief, he maintains substantial contacts with New York and both benefits from and actively participates in, controls and/or directs, in whole or in part, the activities of Student of Fortune, including the activities and operations complained of herein.

13. This Court also has personal jurisdiction over McCleese because, upon information and belief, he maintains substantial contacts with New York and now or has in the past both benefitted from and actively participated in, controlled and/or directed, in whole or in part, the activities of Student of Fortune, including the activities and operations complained of herein.

14. Further, Defendants knew or should have known that they are causing harm to Plaintiffs in New York. Thus, Defendants should reasonably anticipate being subject to this Court's jurisdiction.

15. Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b) and 28 U.S.C. § 1391(c), venue properly lies in this Court because a substantial part of the events or omissions giving rise to the claim occurred in this District, and Defendants are subject to the Court's personal jurisdiction in this District with respect to this action.

FACTS COMMON TO ALL CLAIMS FOR RELIEF

A. Plaintiffs' Business

16. Apollo was founded in 1973 in response to a gradual shift in higher education demographics from a student population dominated by youth to one in which only approximately half the students are adults, and nearly 80 percent are non-traditional, including a substantial portion of whom work either part-time or full-time. Today, Apollo, through its subsidiaries UOPX and other institutions, is a leading provider of higher education programs for working adults and focuses on servicing the needs of the working adult.

17. Apollo pioneers higher education for the working learner through its investment in technology based learning, advanced learning methodologies and an international reach, offering quality academic programs, qualified faculty, and a comprehensive student experience that enables Apollo's schools to be respected institutions of higher education. As a result of its extensive and progressive learning methodologies, many of Apollo's schools and institutions throughout the world are accredited by prestigious local accrediting bodies within their respective geographic or programmatic areas of instruction.

18. In 1976, Apollo founded its flagship school, UOPX, to cater to working adults seeking higher education. Driven by innovation in education, UOPX has pioneered many of the conveniences that students now enjoy—evening classes, flexible scheduling, continuous enrollment, a student-centered environment, online classes, a digital library and computer simulations.

19. UOPX also offers adult learners institutionally accredited programs that fit a working lifestyle and diverse career interests in criminal justice, education, nursing and health care, psychology, and information technology, to name just a few.

20. To achieve UOPX's innovative educational goals, UOPX has created original educational materials, its UOPX Copyrighted Educational Materials, which are designed to aid students in successfully reaching their academic and professional goals, and to equip UOPX's students with the skills necessary to make a difference in their workplace and community.

21. UOPX has invested significant time and money in designing and developing the UOPX Copyrighted Educational Materials, and the UOPX Copyrighted Educational Materials are a key component to UOPX's unique mission and success as a leader in the higher education marketplace. In other words, the UOPX Copyrighted Educational Materials are a prized asset of UOPX and provide UOPX with a distinct competitive advantage over other educational institutions.

22. UOPX is the original author of the UOPX Copyrighted Educational Materials and Apollo is the owner of the copyrights in the UOPX Copyrighted Educational Materials. UOPX is the registrant for the UOPX Copyrighted Educational Materials. As a result, Plaintiffs own the exclusive rights to reproduce, distribute, or create derivative works of the UOPX Copyrighted Educational Materials. Indeed, Plaintiffs have registered hundreds of their copyrighted works, which form part of the UOPX Copyrighted Educational Materials, with the United States Copyright Office. Annexed hereto as Exhibit A is a list of certain copyrighted works for which Plaintiffs have obtained registrations with the United States Copyright Office and their corresponding registration numbers.

B. Defendants' Unlawful Activities

23. Upon information and belief, Defendants' Website is presented as an online tutorial marketplace for those who need or can offer help on homework.

24. At Defendants' Website, students who seek help with an academic subject may post questions with an offer of a "bounty" that they are willing to pay for a tutorial on that academic subject. Defendants' Website sends these offers to all of the tutors who use Studentoffortune.com, and those experts in the subject will write custom tutorials to teach the students how to answer their academic problem. Upon information and belief, students then pay Defendants for these tutorials.

25. Upon information and belief, the tutorials posted on Defendants' Website range from detailed answers to specific questions to substantive outlines of particular subject areas related to the student's question.

26. In addition, upon information and belief, Defendants' Website is also being extensively used to sell infringing copyrighted materials without authorization. For example, students can search for UOPX course materials to find "tutorials" that include UOPX Copyrighted Educational Materials, and a search at Defendants' Website for "university of phoenix complete course" yields over 125,000 results.

27. Student of Fortune is selling complete copies of UOPX courses, including UOPX Copyrighted Educational Materials such as syllabi, teacher notes, tests and answers (the "Infringing Sales"). Attached hereto as Exhibit B are printouts of certain UOPX Copyrighted Educational Materials that were reproduced, distributed, and offered for sale at Defendants' Website.

28. As a result of these sales and actions, Defendants are copying, distributing, and publicly displaying UOPX Copyrighted Educational Materials without authorization from UOPX or Plaintiffs.

29. Upon information and belief, Defendants are also encouraging and promoting copyright infringement on a large scale by encouraging their users and tutors to unlawfully copy, distribute, publicly display and/or create derivatives of UOPX Copyrighted Educational Materials. For example, upon information and belief, Defendants induce tutors at Defendants' Website to take a proactive approach and to upload tutorials—tutorials and materials that infringe on the copyrights covering the UOPX Copyrighted Educational Materials—at Studentoffortune.com rather than wait for students to ask for help. This push towards a proactive approach is coupled by Defendants' deliberate bragging about the “earnings” of its top tutors, with earnings ranging between $164,551.24 and $298,619.95.

30. Upon information and belief, Defendants know or are willfully blind to the fact that the vast majority of tutorials they make available through their services infringe the copyrights of others, including copyrights belonging to Plaintiffs. For example, at their website, Defendants offer for sale copies of hundreds of UOPX course syllabi, certain of which are attached hereto as Exhibit B, that include copyright notices in addition to other indicia to place the public on notice that the material belongs to UOPX.

31. Defendants are, on information and belief, also well versed in this process—Defendants have been involved in other actions brought by major publishing companies for the alleged infringement of copyrights through the posting and/or distribution of copyrighted educational materials. See In re DMCA Subpoena to Student of Fortune, Inc., 1:12-mc-00079-

UNA, In re DMCA Subpoena to Student of Fortune, Inc., 1:12-mc-00144-UNA, and the claims against Chegg, Inc. discussed at <http://investing.businessweek.com/research/stocks/private/snapshot.asp?privcapId=139511526>.

32. Upon information and belief, Defendants directly profit from infringing activity on their website. Students at Defendants' Website pay Defendants for infringing material, and Defendants then keep 18% of each infringing tutorial upon its initial sale.

33. Defendants further boast on their website to prospective tutors that: "We keep your tutorial around forever, so if it's a commonly-asked question, you could be making money off it for a long time to come! Some of our users have made over $1,000 off of a single tutorial! In these cases, we'll take 40% to help cover the cost of advertising your tutorial." Thus, Defendants keep not only 18% of each initial infringing sale, but an additional 40% with each subsequent sale in perpetuity. Defendants' profits from such sales are directly attributed to infringement.

34. Upon information and belief, Defendants have the right and ability to control the infringing activity at their website. As inducement for consumers to purchase the tutorials, Defendants select and provide a portion of the tutorials to consumers as a preview of the tutorials.

35. Upon information and belief, Defendants have the right and ability to stop the infringing activity at their website. Defendants provide the website upon which tutors rely to post their infringing tutorials, and have stated their right and ability to terminate accounts of users suspected of posting infringing material. However, in Defendants' sole financial interests, Defendants instead choose to perpetuate the infringement at their website.

36. In addition, upon information and belief, Defendants have and continue to cause irreparable harm to Plaintiffs' reputation and goodwill by causing academic dishonesty among Plaintiffs' students. Specifically, Defendants sell UOPX students UOPX coursework that has been completed by others, including the answers to tests and solutions to problems that have been specifically designed by Plaintiffs to foster learning. By causing academic dishonesty among Plaintiffs' students, Defendants have undermined Plaintiffs' business and academic reputations.

COUNT I - Copyright Infringement of Plaintiffs' Exclusive Reproduction Rights

37. Plaintiffs repeat and reallege paragraphs 1 through 36 and incorporate them as if fully set forth herein.

38. UOPX Copyrighted Educational Materials are original works of authorship, embodying copyrightable subject matter, subject to the full protection of the United States copyright laws. UOPX is the sole and exclusive owner of all rights, title and interest in and to the copyrights in the UOPX Copyrighted Educational Materials, including, but not limited to, the UOPX Copyrighted Educational Materials alleged to have been infringed herein and all of the copyrightable expression embodied therein.

39. Upon information and belief, Defendants had access to UOPX Copyrighted Educational Materials when users of Defendants' Website posted UOPX Copyrighted Educational Materials on Defendants' Website.

40. Defendants are directly liable for copyright infringement because, without authorization, Defendants are making and causing to be made unauthorized reproductions of Plaintiffs' copyrighted UOPX Educational Materials in violation of 17 U.S.C. §§ 106(1) and 501, including but not limited to the copyrighted UOPX Copyrighted Educational Materials listed in Exhibits A and B hereto.

41. The infringement of Plaintiffs' reproduction rights in their UOPX Copyrighted Educational Materials constitutes a separate and distinct act of infringement each time Defendants reproduce one of Plaintiffs' works. Each time a user posts a copy of a work belonging to Plaintiffs, Defendants make a fixed digital copy of that work and transfer it onto their computer servers where Defendants make another fixed digital copy in violation of Plaintiffs' exclusive rights under 17 U.S.C. § 106(1).

42. The unauthorized acts and conduct of Defendants constitute violations of the United States Copyright Act, and Defendants are acting as a direct infringer pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 101 et seq.

43. Defendants' acts of infringement are willful, intentional and purposeful, in disregard of and indifference to Plaintiffs' rights.

44. Defendants' conduct has caused, is causing and, unless enjoined by this Court, will continue to cause Plaintiffs great and irreparable injury that cannot be fully compensated or measured in money damages. Plaintiffs have no adequate remedy at law.

WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs respectfully pray that the Court grant Plaintiffs: (1) A preliminary and permanent injunction, pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 502, enjoining Defendants and Defendants' agents, servants, employees, officers, attorneys, successors, licensees, partners, and assigns, and all persons acting in concert or participation with each of any of them, from directly infringing, and/or aiding, encouraging, enabling, inducing, causing, materially contributing to, or otherwise facilitating the infringement of, any of Plaintiffs' copyrights or exclusive rights protected by the Copyright Act, whether now in existence or hereafter created; (2) An award of maximum statutory damages, pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 504(c), in the amount of $150,000 with respect to each work infringed, or such other amounts as may be proper under 17 U.S.C. § 504(c); (3) As Plaintiffs may elect, an award of actual damages that Plaintiffs have sustained or will sustain and any income, gains, profits, and advantages obtained by Defendants as a result of its wrongful acts alleged hereinabove pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 504, in an amount which cannot yet be fully ascertained, but which shall be assessed at the time of trial; (4) An award of profits lost as a result of Defendants' wrongful acts alleged hereinabove pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 504, in an amount which cannot yet be fully ascertained, but which shall be assessed at the time of trial; (5) An award of attorneys' fees, expenses, and costs incurred in connection with this action, pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 505, in an amount which cannot yet be fully ascertained, but which shall be assessed at the time of trial; (6) An award of pre- and post-judgment interest; and (7) All other relief to which Plaintiffs are entitled.

COUNT II - Copyright Infringement Of Plaintiffs' Exclusive Distribution Rights

45. Plaintiffs repeat and reallege paragraphs 1 through 44 and incorporate them as if fully set forth herein.

46. Without authorization, Defendants are distributing and have distributed to the public copies of Plaintiffs' copyrighted works in violation of 17 U.S.C. §§ 106(3) and 501, including but not limited to the works listed in Exhibits A and B hereto.

47. The infringement of Plaintiffs' rights to distribute their UOPX Copyrighted Educational Materials constitutes a separate and distinct act of infringement each time Defendants distribute one of Plaintiffs' works. Each time Defendants transfer an unauthorized copy of one of Plaintiffs' copyrighted works from Defendants' servers to another computer, Defendants distribute that copy in violation of Plaintiffs' exclusive rights under 17 U.S.C. §§ 106(3).

48. The unauthorized acts and conduct of Defendants constitute violations of the United States Copyright Act, and Defendants are acting as a direct infringer pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 101 et seq.

49. Defendants' acts of infringement are willful, intentional and purposeful, in disregard of and indifference to Plaintiffs' rights.

50. Defendants' conduct has caused, is causing and, unless enjoined by this Court, will continue to cause Plaintiffs great and irreparable injury that cannot fully be compensated or measured in money damages. Plaintiffs have no adequate remedy at law.

WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs respectfully pray that the Court grant Plaintiffs: (1) A preliminary and permanent injunction, pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 502, enjoining Defendants and Defendants' agents, servants, employees, officers, attorneys, successors, licensees, partners, and assigns, and all persons acting in concert or participation with each of any of them, from directly infringing, and/or aiding, encouraging, enabling, inducing, causing, materially contributing to, or otherwise facilitating the infringement of, any of Plaintiffs' copyrights or exclusive rights protected by the Copyright Act, whether now in existence or hereafter created; (2) An award of maximum statutory damages, pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 504(c), in the amount of $150,000 with respect to each work infringed, or such other amounts as may be proper under 17 U.S.C. § 504(c); (3) As Plaintiffs may elect, an award of actual damages that Plaintiffs have sustained or will sustain and any income, gains, profits, and advantages obtained by Defendants as a result of its wrongful acts alleged hereinabove pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 504, in an amount which cannot yet be fully ascertained, but which shall be assessed at the time of trial; (4) An award of profits lost as a result of Defendants' wrongful acts alleged hereinabove pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 504, in an amount which cannot yet be fully ascertained, but which shall be assessed at the time of trial; (5) An award of attorneys' fees, expenses, and costs incurred in connection with this action, pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 505, in an amount which cannot yet be fully ascertained, but which shall be assessed at the time of trial; (6) An award of pre- and post-judgment interest; and (7) All other relief to which Plaintiffs are entitled.

COUNT III – Copyright Infringement Of Plaintiffs' Exclusive Public Display Rights

51. Plaintiffs repeat and reallege paragraphs 1 through 50 and incorporate them as if fully set forth herein.

52. Without authorization, Defendants are publicly displaying and have publicly displayed, by means of digital transmission, Plaintiffs' copyrighted works in violation of 17 U.S.C. §§ 106(5) and 501, including but not limited to the works listed in Exhibits A and B hereto.

53. The infringement of Plaintiffs' rights in the public display of their UOPX Copyrighted Educational Materials constitutes a separate and distinct act of infringement each time one of Plaintiffs' works is displayed. Each time Defendants display an unauthorized copy of one of Plaintiffs' copyrighted works on Defendants' Website, Defendants publicly display Plaintiffs' works in violation of the Plaintiffs' exclusive right under 17 U.S.C. § 106(5).

54. The unauthorized acts and conduct of Defendants constitute violations of the United States Copyright Act, and Defendants are acting as a direct infringer pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 101 et seq.

55. Defendants' acts of infringement are willful, intentional and purposeful, in disregard of and indifference to Plaintiffs' rights.

56. Defendants' conduct has caused, is causing and, unless enjoined by this Court, will continue to cause Plaintiffs great and irreparable injury that cannot fully be compensated or measured in money damages. Plaintiffs have no adequate remedy at law.

WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs respectfully pray that the Court grant Plaintiffs: (1) A preliminary and permanent injunction, pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 502, enjoining Defendants and Defendants' agents, servants, employees, officers, attorneys, successors, licensees, partners, and assigns, and all persons acting in concert or participation with each of any of them, from directly infringing, and/or aiding, encouraging, enabling, inducing, causing, materially contributing to, or otherwise facilitating the infringement of, any of Plaintiffs' copyrights or exclusive rights protected by the Copyright Act, whether now in existence or hereafter created; (2) An award of maximum statutory damages, pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 504(c), in the amount of $150,000 with respect to each work infringed, or such other amounts as may be proper under 17 U.S.C. § 504(c); (3) As Plaintiffs may elect, an award of actual damages that Plaintiffs have sustained or will sustain and any income, gains, profits, and advantages obtained by Defendants as a result of its wrongful acts alleged hereinabove pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 504, in an amount which cannot yet be fully ascertained, but which shall be assessed at the time of trial; (4) An award of profits lost as a result of Defendants' wrongful acts alleged hereinabove pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 504, in an amount which cannot yet be fully ascertained, but which shall be assessed at the time of trial; (5) An award of attorneys' fees, expenses, and costs incurred in connection with this action, pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 505, in an amount which cannot yet be fully ascertained, but which shall be assessed at the time of trial; (6) An award of pre- and post-judgment interest; and (7) All other relief to which Plaintiffs are entitled.

COUNT IV - Contributory Copyright Infringement

57. Plaintiffs repeat and reallege paragraphs 1 through 56 and incorporate them as if fully set forth herein.

58. Copyrighted works owned by Plaintiffs, and unauthorized derivatives thereof, have been and continue to be illegally reproduced, distributed, and publicly displayed without authorization on Defendants' Website in violation of 17 U.S.C. § 501 et seq. Plaintiffs own the copyrights, or the exclusive reproduction, distribution, public display, and derivation rights to copyrighted works, including but not limited to those contained in Exhibits A and B, that have been infringed through Defendants' Website. Defendants are secondarily liable under the Copyright Act for such infringing acts, including for Defendants' users' direct infringement of Plaintiffs' exclusive copyrights each time they create an unauthorized derivative of Plaintiffs' copyrighted works, each time they upload a copy of Plaintiffs' works to Defendants' servers from their computer, or each time they download a copy of Plaintiffs' works to Defendants' servers from their computer. Each time Defendants' users upload or download a copy of Plaintiffs' copyrighted work, an unauthorized reproduction and distribution occurs in violation of 17 U.S.C. § 501 et seq.

59. Defendants are liable as contributory copyright infringers. Defendants have actual and constructive knowledge of the infringing activity that occurs on and through their website. Through the creation, maintenance, and operation of the site and facility for this infringement, Defendants knowingly cause and/or otherwise materially contribute to the unlawful reproduction, distribution, and public display of Plaintiffs' copyrighted works, including but not limited to those contained in Exhibits A and B, that have been in violation of Plaintiffs' exclusive rights under the copyright laws of the United States. 17 U.S.C. § 106.

60. The unauthorized acts and conduct of Defendants constitute violations of the United States Copyright Act and contributory copyright infringement.

61. Defendants' acts of infringement are willful, intentional and purposeful, in disregard of and indifference to Plaintiffs' rights.

62. Defendants' conduct has caused, is causing and, unless enjoined by this Court, will continue to cause Plaintiffs great and irreparable injury that cannot fully be compensated for or measured in money. Plaintiffs have no adequate remedy at law.

WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs respectfully pray that the Court grant Plaintiffs: (1) A preliminary and permanent injunction, pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 502, enjoining Defendants and Defendants' agents, servants, employees, officers, attorneys, successors, licensees, partners, and assigns, and all persons acting in concert or participation with each of any of them, from directly infringing, and/or aiding, encouraging, enabling, inducing, causing, materially contributing to, or otherwise facilitating the infringement of, any of Plaintiffs' copyrights or exclusive rights protected by the Copyright Act, whether now in existence or hereafter created; (2) An award of maximum statutory damages, pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 504(c), in the amount of $150,000 with respect to each work infringed, or such other amounts as may be proper under 17 U.S.C. § 504(c); (3) As Plaintiffs may elect, an award of actual damages that Plaintiffs have sustained or will sustain and any income, gains, profits, and advantages obtained by Defendants as a result of its wrongful acts alleged hereinabove pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 504, in an amount which cannot yet be fully ascertained, but which shall be assessed at the time of trial; (4) An award of profits lost as a result of Defendants' wrongful acts alleged hereinabove pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 504, in an amount which cannot yet be fully ascertained, but which shall be assessed at the time of trial; (5) An award of attorneys' fees, expenses, and costs incurred in connection with this action, pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 505, in an amount which cannot yet be fully ascertained, but which shall be assessed at the time of trial; (6) An award of pre- and post-judgment interest; and (7) All other relief to which Plaintiffs are entitled.

COUNT V - Vicarious Copyright Infringement

63. Plaintiffs repeat and reallege paragraphs 1 through 62 and incorporate them as if fully set forth herein.

64. Copyrighted works owned by Plaintiffs have been and continue to be illegally reproduced, distributed, and publicly displayed without authorization on Defendants' Website in violation of 17 U.S.C. § 501 et seq. Plaintiffs own the copyrights, or the exclusive reproduction, distribution, public display, and derivation rights to copyrighted works, including but not limited to those contained in Exhibits A and B, that have been infringed through Defendants' Website. Defendants are secondarily liable under the Copyright Act for such infringing acts, including for Defendants' users' direct infringement of Plaintiffs' exclusive copyrights each time they create an unauthorized derivative of Plaintiffs' copyrighted works, each time they upload a copy of Plaintiffs' works to Defendants' servers from their computer, or each time they download a copy of Plaintiffs' works to Defendants' servers from their computer. Each time Defendants' users upload or download a copy of Plaintiffs' copyrighted work, an unauthorized reproduction and distribution occurs, in violation of 17 U.S.C. § 501 et seq.

65. Defendants are vicariously liable for such infringing acts. Defendants have the right and ability to supervise and control the infringing activities that occur through the use of their website, and at all relevant times have derived a direct financial benefit attributable to the infringement through their website. Defendants are therefore vicariously liable for the unlawful reproduction, distribution, and public display of Plaintiffs' copyrighted works, including but not limited to those contained in Exhibits A and B, that have been in violation of Plaintiffs' exclusive rights under the copyright laws of the United States. 17 U.S.C. § 106.

66. The unauthorized acts and conduct of Defendants constitute violations of the United States Copyright Act and vicarious copyright infringement.

67. Defendants' acts of infringement are willful, intentional and purposeful, in disregard of and indifference to Plaintiffs' rights.

68. Defendants' conduct has caused, is causing and, unless enjoined by this Court, will continue to cause Plaintiffs great and irreparable injury that cannot fully be compensated for or measured in money. Plaintiffs have no adequate remedy at law.

WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs respectfully pray that the Court grant Plaintiffs: (1) A preliminary and permanent injunction, pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 502, enjoining Defendants and Defendants' agents, servants, employees, officers, attorneys, successors, licensees, partners, and assigns, and all persons acting in concert or participation with each of any of them, from directly infringing, and/or aiding, encouraging, enabling, inducing, causing, materially contributing to, or otherwise facilitating the infringement of, any of Plaintiffs' copyrights or exclusive rights protected by the Copyright Act, whether now in existence or hereafter created; (2) An award of maximum statutory damages, pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 504(c), in the amount of $150,000 with respect to each work infringed, or such other amounts as may be proper under 17 U.S.C. § 504(c); (3) As Plaintiffs may elect, an award of actual damages that Plaintiffs have sustained or will sustain and any income, gains, profits, and advantages obtained by Defendants as a result of its wrongful acts alleged hereinabove pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 504, in an amount which cannot yet be fully ascertained, but which shall be assessed at the time of trial; (4) An award of profits lost as a result of Defendants' wrongful acts alleged hereinabove pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 504, in an amount which cannot yet be fully ascertained, but which shall be assessed at the time of trial; (5) An award of attorneys' fees, expenses, and costs incurred in connection with this action, pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 505, in an amount which cannot yet be fully ascertained, but which shall be assessed at the time of trial; (6) An award of pre- and post-judgment interest; and (7) All other relief to which Plaintiffs are entitled.

COUNT VI - Inducement of Copyright Infringement

69. Plaintiffs repeat and reallege paragraphs 1 through 68 and incorporate them as if fully set forth herein.

70. Copyrighted works owned by Plaintiffs have been and continue to be illegally reproduced, distributed, and publicly displayed without authorization on Defendants' Websites in violation of 17 U.S.C. § 501 et seq. Plaintiffs own the copyrights, or the exclusive reproduction, distribution, and public display rights in copyrighted works, including but not limited to those contained in Exhibits A and B, and many others. Defendants are secondarily liable under the Copyright Act for such infringing acts, including for Defendants' users' direct infringement of Plaintiffs' exclusive copyrights each time they create an unauthorized derivative of Plaintiffs' copyrighted works, each time they upload a copy of Plaintiffs' works to Defendants' servers from their computer, or each time they download a copy of Plaintiffs' works to Defendants' servers from their computer. Each time Defendants' users upload or download a copy of Plaintiffs' copyrighted work, an unauthorized reproduction and distribution occurs, in violation of 17 U.S.C. § 501 et seq.

71. Defendants operate and maintain their site with the object of promoting its use to infringe Plaintiffs' copyrighted works. Defendants' inducement of copyright infringement is apparent from, among other things, the predominantly infringing content available on

Defendants' sites; Defendants' express invitations to reproduce, distribute, publicly display and create unlawful derivative works of copyrighted content; Defendants' failure to make any earnest effort to prevent or filter copyright infringement on their sites; and Defendants' business model, which is overwhelmingly dependent upon widespread copyright infringement. Defendants unlawfully induce the direct infringement of Plaintiffs' copyrighted works, including but not limited to those contained in Exhibits A and B, that have been in violation of Plaintiffs' exclusive rights under the copyright laws of the United States. 17 U.S.C. § 106.

72. The unauthorized acts and conduct of Defendants constitute violations of the United States Copyright Act and inducement of copyright infringement.

73. Defendants' acts of infringement are willful, intentional and purposeful, in disregard of and indifference to Plaintiffs' rights.

74. Defendants' conduct has caused, is causing and, unless enjoined by this Court, will continue to cause Plaintiffs great and irreparable injury that cannot fully be compensated for or measured in money. Plaintiffs have no adequate remedy at law.

WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs respectfully pray that the Court grant Plaintiffs: (1) A preliminary and permanent injunction, pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 502, enjoining Defendants and Defendants' agents, servants, employees, officers, attorneys, successors, licensees, partners, and assigns, and all persons acting in concert or participation with each of any of them, from directly infringing, and/or aiding, encouraging, enabling, inducing, causing, materially contributing to, or otherwise facilitating the infringement of, any of Plaintiffs' copyrights or exclusive rights protected by the Copyright Act, whether now in existence or hereafter created; (2) An award of maximum statutory damages, pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 504(c), in the amount of $150,000 with respect to each work infringed, or such other amounts as may be proper under 17 U.S.C. §

504(c); (3) As Plaintiffs may elect, an award of actual damages that Plaintiffs have sustained or will sustain and any income, gains, profits, and advantages obtained by Defendants as a result of its wrongful acts alleged hereinabove pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 504, in an amount which cannot yet be fully ascertained, but which shall be assessed at the time of trial; (4) An award of profits lost as a result of Defendants' wrongful acts alleged hereinabove pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 504, in an amount which cannot yet be fully ascertained, but which shall be assessed at the time of trial; (5) An award of attorneys' fees, expenses, and costs incurred in connection with this action, pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 505, in an amount which cannot yet be fully ascertained, but which shall be assessed at the time of trial; (6) An award of pre- and post-judgment interest; and (7) All other relief to which Plaintiffs are entitled.

JURY DEMAND

Plaintiffs hereby demand a trial by jury pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 38.

Course Description

This course introduces development tools and techniques used to publish web pages on the World Wide Web. Students use basic hypertext markup language, scripting and presentational technologies to create web sites without the aid of a software authoring application. Topics include XHTML, CSS, JavaScript®, server hosting, site publication, site maintenance, and Search Engine Optimization.

Policies

Faculty and students/learners will be held responsible for understanding and adhering to all policies contained within the following two documents:

- University policies: You must be logged into the student website to view this document.
- Instructor policies: This document is posted in the Course Materials forum.

University policies are subject to change. Be sure to read the policies at the beginning of each class. Policies may be slightly different depending on the modality in which you attend class. If you have recently changed modalities, read the policies governing your current class modality.

Week One: Introduction to Extensible Hypertext Markup Language (XHTML)

	Details	Due	Points
Objectives	1.1 Identify basic XHTML tags and attributes. 1.2 Explain viewing and testing markup code in various web browsers. 1.3 Describe how Cascading Style Sheets (CSS) are applied for formatting web content.
Readings	Read Ch. 1, "Web Page Building Blocks," of HTML, XHTML, and CSS: Visual Quickstart Guide . Read Ch. 2, "Working with Web Page Files," of HTML, XHTML, and CSS: Visual Quickstart Guide . Read Ch. 3, "Basic (X) HTML Structure," of HTML, XHTML, and CSS: Visual Quickstart Guide . Read Ch. 4, "Basic (X) HTML Formatting," of HTML, XHTML, and CSS: Visual Quickstart Guide . Read Ch. 7, "Style Sheet Building Blocks," of HTML, XHTML, and CSS: Visual Quickstart Guide . Read Ch. 8, "Working with Style Sheet Files," of HTML, XHTML, and CSS: Visual Quickstart Guide . Read Ch. 22, "Testing and Debugging Web Pages," of HTML, XHTML, and CSS: Visual Quickstart Guide . Read the Week One Read Me First. Read this week's Electronic Reserve Readings.
Participation	Participate in class discussion (your substantive participation grade should be at least 40–75 words).		2.5
Discussion Questions	Respond to weekly discussion questions. Discussion questions (DQs) will require you to meet a 150-250 word count and include a certain level of detail.	Wednesday Friday Saturday	2.5
Learning Team Instructions	Create the Learning Team Charter. Begin working on the Learning Team E-Commerce Project assignment due in Week Five. This assignment will be composed of two parts: the creation of a prototype and a paper. Kudler Fine Foods wants to improve the functionality of their current website to be more competitive. Learning Teams research the challenges of implementing e-commerce functionality. They analyze how to add online shopping cart functionality to Kudler's site and how to optimize the website for search engines. Create a Powerpoint presentation. This presentation will include a	Monday	2

Week Two: Website Development
	Details	Due	Points
Objectives	2.1 Develop XHTML code that displays content in a web browser. 2.2 Apply styles and style sheets to control various attributes of a web page and its content. 2.3 Create internal, external and anchor hyperlinks in a web page. 2.4 Distinguish the development environment from a production environment.
Readings	Read Ch. 6, "Links," of HTML, XHTML, and CSS: Visual Quickstart Guide. Read Ch. 9, "Defining Selectors," of HTML, XHTML, and CSS: Visual Quickstart Guide. Read Ch. 10, "Formatting with Styles," of HTML, XHTML, and CSS: Visual Quickstart Guide. Read Ch. 11, "Layout with Styles," of HTML, XHTML, and CSS: Visual Quickstart Guide. Read Ch. 13, "Style Sheets for Handhelds," of HTML, XHTML, and CSS: Visual Quickstart Guide. Read Ch. 23, "Publishing Your Pages on the Web," of HTML, XHTML, and CSS: Visual Quickstart Guide.

	Read the Week Two Read Me First. Read this week's Electronic Reserve Readings.
Participation	Participate in class discussion (your substantive participation grade should be at least 40–75 words).		2.5
Discussion Questions	Respond to weekly discussion questions. Discussion questions (DQs) will require you to meet a 150-250 word count and include a certain level of detail.	Wednesday Friday Saturday	2.5
Learning Team Assignment	Provide a comprehensive outline of your team's approach for completing the projects due in Week 5. Identify the team lead(s) and accountabilities for each team member for each week of the course.	Friday	2
Learning Team Instructions	Identify the competition, challenges and recommended process to create an e-commerce solution for Kudler Fine Foods. Include recommendations for Search Engine Optimization (SEO).
Individual Individual Website Project – Basic Homepage	Use Notepad only to hard code a basic web page (one page only) describing your profession, hobbies, or interests. This page is the homepage of your website. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Save your site homepage as index.html.* • Show proper usage of the Doctype* • Integrate graphics effectively into the site. * * Please check the rubric for this IA which can be found under the Course Materials tab for additional requirements for this assignment. Check your HTML code using the Markup Validation Service on the W3C® website, prior to submitting your web page(s). A link to this site may be found in the Materials tab on your student website. Submit all website files in a compressed folder.	Sunday	15

Week Three: Website Interaction

	Details	Due	Points
Objectives	3.1 Create an effective navigation system. 3.2 Create a basic web form. 3.3 Describe how to integrate multimedia files into a web page. 3.4 Apply principles of effective technical writing and web design.
Readings	Read Ch. 5, "Images," of HTML, XHTML, and CSS: Visual Quickstart Guide . Read Ch. 12, "Dynamic Effects with Styles," of HTML, XHTML, and CSS: Visual Quickstart Guide .

	Read Ch. 17, "Forms," of HTML, XHTML, and CSS: Visual Quickstart Guide. Read Ch. 18, "Video, Audio, and other Multimedia," of HTML, XHTML, and CSS: Visual Quickstart Guide. Read the Week Three Read Me First. Read this week's Electronic Reserve Readings.
Participation	Participate in class discussion (your substantive participation grade should be at least 40–75 words).		2.5
Discussion Questions	Respond to weekly discussion questions. Discussion questions (DQs) will require you to meet a 150-250 word count and include a certain level of detail.	Wednesday Friday Saturday	2.5
Learning Team Assignment	Compile a progress report based on the Project Plan that your team has made (identifying each team members' contribution).	Friday	1
Learning Team Instructions	Continue working on research and analysis of e-commerce solution for Kudler Fine Foods. Create an e-commerce presentation for Kudler. This presentation must include a mockup of the shopping cart appearance and an explanation of the functionality.
Individual Individual Website Project – Expanded Website	Expand the basic homepage from Week Two to a site that includes at least three web pages. Incorporate the following into your expanded website: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Apply Cascading Style Sheets (CSS) to format elements. * • Organize page content using structural elements, such as headings, paragraphs, tables, and lists. * • Use internal, external, and anchor links in the site. * • Finalize a navigation system. * • Apply usability best practices and principles of design. * *Please check the rubric for this IA which can be found under the Course Materials tab for additional requirements for this assignment. Submit all website files in a compressed folder.	Sunday	15

Week Four: Introduction to JavaScript®

	Details	Due	Points
Objectives	4.1 Explain the basic application for JavaScript®. 4.2 Explain JavaScript® arrays, loops and conditional statements. 4.3 Apply JavaScript® effectively in website.

Readings	Read Ch. 1, "Introduction to JavaScript and the Web," of Beginning JavaScript. Read Ch. 2, "Data Types and Variables," of Beginning JavaScript. Read Ch. 3, "Decisions, Loops, and Functions," of Beginning JavaScript. Read Ch. 6, "Programming the Browser," of Beginning JavaScript. Read the Week Four Read Me First. Read this week's Electronic Reserve Readings.
Participation	Participate in class discussion (your substantive participation grade should be at least 40–75 words).		2.5
Discussion Questions	Respond to weekly discussion questions. Discussion questions (DQs) will require you to meet a 150-250 word count and include a certain level of detail.	Wednesday Friday	2.5
Learning Team Assignment	Compile a progress report based on the Project Plan that your team has made (identifying each team members' contribution).	Friday	1
Learning Team Instructions	Finalize the 8- to 10-page written analysis for Kudler's recommended e-commerce solution. Finalize a mockup of how this might work for a buyer.
Individual Individual Website Project – Finalized Website	Review the following information: The individual assignments for this course require you to design and develop a website about your profession, hobbies, or interests. The site must consist of 3 to 5 web pages. Your target audience will be other professionals in your field or potential employers. Your site must demonstrate the following characteristics: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Effective file management • Accurate and functional markup code • Effective and functional navigation • Effective application of design elements Refine and finalize your website to include the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Use metadata to increase accessibility and search engine optimization. • Add a simple web form—such as an order form, a subscription to a newsletter, or a request for contact. • Use a table to structure the form elements. • Apply JavaScript® to validate the form. • Finalize a navigation system. • Test for functionality and usability. Submit all website files in a compressed folder.	Sunday	20

Week Five: Website Publication & Maintenance

	Details	Due	Points
Objectives	5.1 Identify the importance of professional standards in web development. 5.2 Explain how metadata can promote a website. 5.3 Identify the process to publish a website. 5.4 Identify the need to maintain and redesign a website.
Readings	Read Ch. 4, "Building Your Own Site for SEO," of SEO: Search Engine Optimization Bible . Read Ch. 24, "Getting People to Visit," of HTML, XHTML, and CSS: Visual Quickstart Guide . Read Ch. 25, "Syndication and Podcasting," of HTML, XHTML, and CSS: Visual Quickstart Guide . Review Ch. 23, "Publishing Your Pages on the Web," of HTML, XHTML, and CSS: Visual Quickstart Guide . Read the Week Five Read Me First. Read this week's Electronic Reserve Readings.
Participation	Participation will not be required during the final week of the course. The final week will be dedicated to completing the final assignments.
Discussion Questions	Discussion question responses will not be required during the final week of the course. The final week will be dedicated to completing the final assignments.
Learning Team E-Commerce Analysis Paper	Submit the e-commerce analysis paper.	Saturday	12
Learning Team E-Commerce Analysis Prototype	Submit the e-commerce analysis prototype.	Sunday	10
Individual Team Evaluation	Submit the Learning Team Evaluation form.	Monday	2

Optional Discussion Questions

Week One Discussion Questions

- Why is it important to test your web pages in various web browsers?
- Explain how XML has affected HTML. What is the current markup language standard?
- Describe how CSS may be leveraged in website programming.
- Based on Gibbs' (2010) article, what are the advantages of using Cascading Style Sheets (CSS) when developing a website? List three advantages and explain why they are useful.

Week Two Discussion Questions

- Compare the advantages and disadvantages of using frames.
- Define the purpose of Document Type Declaration (DTD). If a web page displays without a DTD, why should this be included?
- Distinguish the following server-related terms: client-side, server-side, development server, and production server. Discuss how these apply in your workplace.
- Based on the Palm's Comeback (2009) article, what are the obstacles to Palm moving back to the top of the smartphone market? How are they doing?

Week Three Discussion Questions

- Flash® is a popular tool to enhance site interactivity. Examine Flash® SEO. Provide recommendations for how to integrate Flash® into a website effectively. Under what circumstances would you use Flash® over an HTML editor?
- What effect does the incorporation of streaming media have on the enterprise's website? How are static HTML pages affected by the employment of streaming media technology?

Week Four Discussion Questions

- Based on the Greiner (2008) article, what role does Asynchronous JavaScript® play in the AJAX methodology? How does AJAX minimize the traffic between the server and client?
- Based on the Keston (2008) article, do you believe that mashups will completely replace the creation of HTML web pages from scratch? What are the advantages and disadvantages of using mashups?

Week Five Discussion Questions

- Create a systematic checklist that outlines your process for publishing a brand new website.
- How is metadata used to promote accessibility and search engine optimization?
- Explain the value of the W3C® validation tools. Why would you decide to include this logo on your web pages or not?
- Based on the O'Kennon (2010) article, why has corporate web content become so important of late? Should content delivery be provided by an application server provider? What are the advantages and disadvantages of this approach?

Discussion Questions

Week One Discussion Questions

- Based on the Greiner (2010) article, why has Java surfaced as primary Technology for Web Development? What is the difference between JavaScript and Java?
- Based on the Greiner (2010) article, how does security for AJAX and .NET compare?
- The W3C has a document object model as a recommendation. Should browsers implement this model? If not, propose a model you think would be suitable.
- To limit the creation of malicious code, should access to elements of the document object model and some JavaScript functionality be limited? In discussing your answer, describe two types of computer attacks or viruses that may be initiated by scripting code in the browser environment. What else may be done to combat this?

Week Two Discussion Questions

- Based on the Keston (2010) article, how have the improved sophistication, robustness, and feature richness of Web development tools impacted the development of websites?
- What is an Acid3 test? How does it relate to a JavaScript event?
- What are the similarities between DOM and Microsoft® Internet Explorer® (IE) event models? What are their differences?

Week Three Discussion Questions

- Based on the Greiner (2010) article, in AJAX what functional purpose does JavaScript provide to Web development?
- There are many misconceptions about cookies by the general public. What are two to three misconceptions about cookies? In each case, explain the real drawback of cookies.

Week Four Discussion Questions

- Based on the Greiner (2009) article, what are the advantages of a Linux-based platform for Web development when compared to a Windows-based platform?
- Based on the O'Kennon (2010) article, given the LAMP stack (Linux, Apache, MySQL, and PHP) is provided free by FOSS do you think it can provide a meaningful Web development platform? Why or why not? Explain.
- According to Krill (2009), HTML 5 could make Rich Internet Application (RIA) technologies such as Adobe® Flash®, Microsoft® Silverlight™, and Oracle JavaFX™ obsolete. Do you agree? Why or why not?

- In 1995, the Java applet added interactivity to otherwise static HTML. After more than 10 years of rapid development, there are other client-side technologies, such as Adobe® Flash®, AJAX, Microsoft® ActiveX®, Microsoft® Silverlight®, and so forth. Is the Java applet at the end of its lifecycle? Why or why would you not choose Java for any new content on the web? Explain your answers.

Week Five Discussion Questions

- Based on the O'Kennon (2010) article, what does the WAMP stack bring to Web development that was missing with LAMP? Which stack do you prefer and why?
- Based on the Greiner (2010) article, why has XML become essential for providing the content management function in Web development? Explain.
- Based on the Langley (2008) article, there are interoperability problems when multiple AJAX libraries are used in the same web page. Why would the same web page use multiple AJAX libraries? How is this problem addressed?
- How has AJAX promoted the development of web-based software? Provide an example of a popular website that relies on AJAX functionality.

Optional Discussion Questions

Week One Discussion Questions

- Visit the website of your favorite U.S. company. Find the company's financial statements in the section of the website for investors. Post a link to the statements. What did you find interesting about each of the four financial statements, which include balance sheets, income statements, statements of cash flows, and statements of owners' equity? How could the information in those statements be useful to an investor and to a manager?

- Which one of the four financial statements is your favorite and why?
- Find an article in the University Library about the Sarbanes-Oxley Act. Post a reference consistent with APA guidelines for the article so all students can locate it. What does the article tell you about the purpose of Sarbanes-Oxley and about the responsibility of corporations?
- In addition to preparing financial statements in accordance with GAAP, U.S. companies may be required, in the near future, to prepare these statements according to the International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS). Review the standards on the Financial Accounting Standards Board website (<http://www.FASB.org>) and on the IFRS Foundation website (<http://www.IFRS.org>). In what specific ways do the two sets of standards differ from one another? If the United States adopted IFRS standards, what would be the advantages and disadvantages?

Week Two Discussion Questions

- Visit the website of your favorite U.S. company. Find the company's financial statements in the section of the website for investors. Post a link to the statements. Compute two ratios from each type, including liquidity, solvency, and profitability. What do these ratios tell you about the financial status of this company?
- Refer to Ch. 3 of The Successful Business Plan. What components would you include in your business plan to gain the attention of the loan officer at a commercial lending financial institution? What makes these components important?
- Imagine you are a loan officer presented with a loan package from a start-up company and one from a well-established company. What specific components would you require in the start-up company's loan package to approve the requested loan? How do your lending requirements for the start-up company differ from those for the established company applying for a loan?
- An effectively organized loan application reduces the time spent waiting for a response to a loan request. According to John Nelson III, SCORE counselor in Rhode Island and vice president of a major U.S. bank, "in about 80 percent of the cases, the formal request is not complete" (U.S. Small Business Administration, n.d.) What factor, or factors, in your opinion, contribute to this high percentage of incomplete loan packages? What strategies do you recommend to overcome each of the factors identified?

Week Three Discussion Questions

- Select a costing method: process, job, or activity based. Describe the nature of your chosen method. What types of organizations should choose that method? How is this method different from the costing methods you did not choose? Use your selected costing method to create a real-life business management scenario that includes realistic numbers. What management decisions may one make based on your scenario?
- Identify an industry in which a job order cost system or a process cost system could be used. How might each of the cost systems be implemented within this particular industry? Does an industry exist in which the job order and the processing cost systems would not be suitable? Explain your rationale.

- Suppose you are the manager of a widget-production company. The company's two support departments, Purchasing and Human Resources, are currently allocated amongst its three manufacturing departments: Laminating, Fabricating, and Assembling. Currently, the support department's costs are divided equally among the three manufacturing departments. The company has conducted an analysis using the number of employees in the manufacturing departments as the activity driver. The results of the analysis indicate Fabricating would receive 50% of the total costs of Purchasing and Human Resources, Laminating would receive 30%, and Assembling would receive 20%. As a manager, would you suggest the firm adopt the new activity-driven allocations or retain the current allocation method? Choose a method of allocation and provide your rationale. Identify at least two additional cost drivers that could be used to allocate the costs of the two support departments and explain the rationale you used to select the additional cost drivers.
- What type of costing system would you use for the company you selected for the Small-Business Idea Paper which was due in Week Two? Why did you pick this costing system? Review another student's response to this question. Reply to that student and indicate if you agree with his or her choice of costing system and with his or her rationale. In your response, recommend another costing system to consider. Provide your rationale for your recommendation.

Week Four Discussion Questions

- What are the components of cost-volume-profit (CVP) analysis? How does a CVP income statement help management make decisions?
- What is break-even analysis and how does it work with cost-volume-profit analysis? As a manager, what decisions would you make to achieve a lower break-even point?
- How might you handle the break-even analysis for multiple product lines?
- Imagine Widgets Airlines, Inc. operates 18-seat commercial flights between New York City and Washington, DC. After 10 seats have been sold on each aircraft, the company has reached the break-even point. Should Widgets consider offering a discounted fare for seats 11 through 18? What are the advantages and disadvantages of not offering a discount on seats 11 through 18? What are the advantages and disadvantages of offering a discount on seats 11 through 18? How would you decide how much of a discount, if any, could be offered? What effect would the discount have on the financial statements of Widgets Airlines, Inc.?

Week Five Discussion Questions

- Imagine you are preparing a business's cash budget, which involves determining the amount of cash to keep on hand. How might the nature of the business affect your decision? Provide specific examples in your response.
- Review different budgets used in your organization or in an organization with which you are familiar. What are the uses of the types of budgets you reviewed?
- What is a flexible budget? What types of organizations may use flexible budgets? Why are flexible budgets useful?
- What are variances and why do these occur? When should one investigate budget variances? What factors would you consider when deciding whether to investigate a variance? As a manager, how would you handle variances?

Week Six Discussion Questions

- What is incremental analysis? Provide an example, using numbers, of how incremental analysis might be used to make business decisions.
- What matters should you consider when deciding whether to make a product or to buy a product? What matters should not be considered? Why?
- What relevant costs might you consider in deciding whether to accept an order at a reduced selling price? What costs would you not consider when making your decision? Why are these costs not relevant?
- What should you consider when deciding to retain or replace equipment? Why are these relevant considerations?

Where to Go to Class

Main: This is the main forum for the class and is where discussion is conducted. It has read-and-write access for everyone.

Chat-Room: This is a read-and-write access forum. It is designed as a place to discuss issues not related to the course content. This is the forum to which we will send our bios.

Course-Materials: This is a read-only forum, which means you can read messages here but cannot send any. This is where I will post the course syllabus and materials.

Learning-Team-A, B, C, D, E and F: These six Learning Team forums will be used as workrooms for the learning teams. You will be assigned to one of these learning teams.

Individual Forum: You will see one forum with your name on it. This is a private forum, shared only by you and me, the facilitator. Your classmates will not have access to this forum. You can ask questions here. However, if you have general questions about instructions of assignments, please post those in the Main forum under Class Questions, since other students may benefit by that exchange as well. This forum is also used by the Learning Team Scribe to submit identified drafts for comments.

Where to Submit Your Assignments and Certificates of Originality (CoO)

Assignment Section: This is where you will submit all formal graded assignments and related CoO's. Navigate to the Assignments link on eCampus. Locate the link to submit your assignment as an attachment.

Policies

Faculty and students/learners will be held responsible for understanding and adhering to all policies contained within the following two documents:

- University policies: You must be logged into the student website to view this document.
- Instructor policies: This document is posted in the Course Materials forum.

University policies are subject to change. Be sure to read the policies at the beginning of each class. Policies may be slightly different depending on the modality in which you attend class. If you have recently changed modalities, read the policies governing your current class modality.

Discussion Questions: Remember to participate in the class discussions 4 out of 7 days during each week.
Do not post responses to weekly DQ's before the first day of class.

Week One Discussion Questions

Due Day 3: DQ 1 - List the steps in managing information, identify the characteristics of useful information, and discuss how data are stored and mined.

Due Day 5 DQ 2 - Compare the scope of the Internet, intranets, extranets, and virtual private networks as tools in managing information. An assessment of risks and information security controls should be part of your discussion.

Week Two Discussion Questions

Due Day 3: DQ 1 - Discuss the effect of the legal environment on the firm's global competitiveness.

Due Day 5: DQ 2 - Describe the many threats to information security. This discussion should include risks to a business introduced by these risks. Potential controls to offset the identified risks will help a business analyst guide information system development efforts.

Week Three Discussion Questions

Due Day 3: DQ 1 - Describe why information technology is important to accounting information systems, and why accountants should know about this technology.

Due Day 5: DQ 2 - Discuss the concepts of outsourcing and off-shoring as these relate to business processes. Include situations when it would be beneficial and detrimental to the firm.

Week Four Discussion Questions

Due Day 3: DQ 1 – Define with examples and explain the differences amongst the various eMarketing domains.

Due Day 5: DQ 2 – Application development objectives are key to a firm's success in managing information systems and delivering effective reporting solutions. Describe the differences between 'customization' and 'customerization' and provide examples of each.

Week Five Discussion Questions

- This week will serve as a review of the previous discussion questions and will provide an opportunity for further coverage of critical topics.

Facilitator Availability

I am available throughout the week in your classroom to participate and answer questions. I generally will be offline on Fridays and Saturdays. If these times are not convenient for you, please let me know, and I will attempt to accommodate your schedule if at all possible. I provide you with these times to make it easier to communicate with me, not to limit our contact. If you post a question to your Individual Forum I will respond to you the next time I check into class, with a goal of responding within 24 hours. I encourage you to use your Individual Forum as our primary means of communication.

If you would like to speak by phone you may certainly call me. To ensure you reach me, please post a request for phone communication in your Individual Forum to set up a time for you to call me. I am here to help you succeed in any way I can.

For emergencies, when you are not able to gain access to messages on the Online Learning System (OLS), please send a message to both of my email addresses. In the event a third party needs to contact me, please direct them to my contact information listed under "facilitator information." No third party should use your login credentials to gain access to the classroom.

Where to Go to Class

Main: This is the main forum for the class and is where discussion is conducted. It has read-and-write access for everyone.

Chat-Room: This is a read-and-write access forum. It is designed as a place to discuss issues not related to the course content. This is the forum to which we will send our bios.

Course-Materials: This is a read-only forum, which means you can read messages here but cannot send any. This is where I will post the course syllabus and materials.

Individual Forum: You will see one forum with your name on it. This is a private forum, shared only by you and me, the facilitator. Your classmates will not have access to this forum. You can ask questions here. However, if you have general questions about instructions of assignments, please post those in the Main forum, since other students may benefit by that exchange as well.

Where to Submit Your Assignments

Assignment Section: This is where you will submit all formal assignments. Navigate to the Assignments link on eCampus. Locate the link to submit your assignment as an attachment.

Policies

For class policies, please see the "Policies" link on the left side of the Materials page for the course on eCampus. Faculty and students/learners will be held responsible for understanding and adhering to all policies contained within that link. University policies are subject to change so please be sure to read them at the beginning of each class as it may have changed since your last class. Policies may be slightly different depending on the modality in which you attend class. If you have recently changed modalities it is important you read the policies governing your current class modality.

Technical Support

Technical Support is available 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. Call 1-877-832-4867, or use the e-mail support form. Answers to the most common issues are found in the Knowledge Base by clicking Help, found at the top of every student Web site.

Feedback

Each week, I will provide grades or scores and comments on your assignments.

Week Eight

Business Ethics Across Cultures

- Describe ethical issues that arise as a result of globalization.
- Compare ethical perspectives across cultures.
- Determine the risks and consequences associated with global business.

Course Assignments

1. Readings

- Review Ch. 11 of Managing Business Ethics.

2. CheckPoint: Business Ethics and Globalization

- Write a 150- to 300-word response addressing the following points:
 - Describe at least three ethical issues resulting from globalization.
 - Explain the ethical risks and consequences associated with global business.
 - Post your response in the assignment section.

3. Assignment: Business Ethics Across Cultures Article Review

- Locate two articles discussing the ethical perspectives or business ethics of a foreign country. Each article must contain information on a different foreign country on a different continent; for example, if the first article you select discusses a country in South America, the second article you select must discuss a foreign country outside of South America.
- Write a 1,400- to 1,750-word article review addressing the following points:
 - Provide a brief summary and overview of the articles you have selected.
 - Explain the primary ethical perspectives of the countries discussed in the articles.
 - Discuss how the articles contribute to understanding global ethical perspectives.
 - Briefly describe how the business ethics of the foreign countries compare to the business ethics of your home country.
- Format your paper according to APA guidelines.
- Post your paper as an attachment in the assignment section.

Week Nine

Business Ethics Reflection

- Apply ethical principles to ethical dilemmas in business.
- Explain ways individuals, managers, and organizations can improve business ethics.

Course Assignments

1. Capstone Discussion Question

- Post your response to the following: In your own words, using the concepts and information you have learned in this course, prepare a 200- to 300-word response to the following questions:
 - Describe both your personal ethics and moral perspectives. What are some of the factors shaping them?
 - How has this course changed your perspective of business ethics?
 - How have you applied your personal ethics and moral perspectives to business ethics? Provide an example from your workplace.

2. Final Project: Ethics Program Presentation

- Develop a Microsoft® PowerPoint® presentation of 10 to 12 slides following the guidelines and scenario listed in Appendix A.
- Use APA formatting guidelines.
- Post your presentation as an attachment in the assignment section.

Weekly Reminders

Discussion Questions

The Capstone Discussion Question response will not count towards the class participation requirement and will be evaluated separately.

Only posts in the Main classroom forum will count towards your class participation score.

Course Description

This course introduces security principles and management issues that IT professionals must consider. The course surveys current and emerging security practices and processes as they relate to; information system, systems development, operating systems and programming, database development and management, networking and telecommunications, and the Internet.

Policies

Faculty and students will be held responsible for understanding and adhering to all policies contained within the following two documents:

- University policies: You must be logged into the student website to view this document.
- Instructor policies: This document is posted in the Course Materials forum.

University policies are subject to change. Be sure to read the policies at the beginning of each class. Policies may be slightly different depending on the modality in which you attend class. If you have recently changed modalities, read the policies governing your current class modality.

Individual Outsourcing Risks	Prepare a 3- to 5-page paper that identifies the possible risks to an organization in each of the following outsourcing situations: a) the use of an external service provider for your data storage; b) the use of an enterprise service provider for processing information systems applications such as a payroll, human resources, or sales order taking; c) the use of a vendor to support your desktop computers; and d) the use of a vendor to provide network support. The paper will include a risk mitigation strategy for each situation. One mitigation strategy, because of personnel and facility limitations, cannot be proposed in the paper, because it eliminates the outsourcing by bringing the situation in house.	5/16/11	14

Course Description

This course builds upon the foundations established in COM/155. It addresses the various rhetorical modes necessary for effective college essays: narration, illustration, description, process analysis, classification, definition, comparison and contrast, cause and effect, and argumentation. In addition, requirements for research essays, including the use of outside sources and appropriate formatting, are considered.

Facilitator Information

Jilynn Elliott

jil2424@email.phoenix.edu (University of Phoenix)

jil2424@gmail.com (Personal)

562-760-5954 (Pacific Standard Time)

Facilitator Availability

I am available from 9 a.m.-5 p.m. Pacific Time on most days, but I attempt to reserve Sunday for my family. During the week, I am online most of the time during that 9 a.m.-11 p.m. time frame.

If these times are not convenient for you, please let me know. I will be happy to accommodate your schedule, if possible. I provide you with these times to make it easier to communicate with me, and not to limit our contact.

I want you to know that, should you need to contact me outside these time frames, you should not hesitate to do so.

For emergencies, when you are not able to gain access to messages on the Online Learning System (OLS), please send a message to my personal email address. In the event a third party needs to contact me, please direct them to my contact information listed under "facilitator information." No third party should use your login credentials to gain access to the classroom.

Facilitator Bio

To introduce myself more fully, I am posting my biography in a separate note to our Chat Room forum. After you have read my bio, please post a bio about yourself—I look forward to getting to know you!

Words of Welcome

Welcome to COM/156, University Composition and Communication II. I congratulate you on your decision to complete your Associate's degree. I will do everything I can to ensure the next 9 weeks will be a stimulating learning experience for all of us. If you ever have questions or need additional guidance, please feel free to contact me. Together, I trust we will have a challenging and rewarding class experience.

Where to Go to Class

Main: This is the main forum for the class and is where discussion is conducted. It has read-and-write access for everyone.

Chat-Room: This is a read-and-write access forum. It is designed as a place to discuss issues not related to the course content. This is the forum to which we will send our bios.

Course-Materials: This is a read-only forum, which means you can read messages here but cannot send any. This is where I will post the course syllabus and materials.

Individual Forum: You will see one forum with your name on it. This is a private forum, shared only by you and me, the facilitator. Your classmates will not have access to this forum. You can ask questions here. However, if you have general questions about instructions of assignments, please post those in the Main forum, since other students may benefit by that exchange as well.

Where to Submit Your Assignments

Assignment Section: This is where you will submit all formal assignments. Navigate to the Assignments link on eCampus. Locate the link to submit your assignment as an attachment.

Policies

Faculty and students/learners will be held responsible for understanding and adhering to all policies contained within the following two documents:

- University policies: You must be logged into the student website to view this document.
- Instructor policies: This document is posted in the Course Materials forum.

University policies are subject to change. Be sure to read the policies at the beginning of each class. Policies may be slightly different depending on the modality in which you attend class. If you have recently changed modalities, read the policies governing your current class modality.

Expectations for Discussion Question Responses

Discussion question responses should be at least 150 to 300 words. For discussion question responses in the Main forum, please post responses to the threads provided. To respond, highlight the appropriate thread, click on Reply, type your response, and post message. Please do not start a new thread for the weekly discussion questions in the Main forum.

Unlike your formal written assignments, I do not require that your discussion question responses adhere to specific formatting requirements. However, please make sure to proofread carefully. I will evaluate your grammar, spelling, and punctuation.

I expect your discussion question responses to reflect critical thought. Whenever possible, please try to relate the course content to real-world applications from your work experience.

Course Materials

The assignment materials and syllabus may vary from those posted on your Materials page for this course. When in doubt, always refer back to this Course Syllabus for exact assignments and instructions. All assignments and additional reading assignments will be posted in the Course Materials forum. You will still need to refer to your Materials page on eCampus to access to the required reading assignments.

Take notes regarding the interactions and communication dynamics depicted in the television show. Write a 2,100- to 2,450-word paper in which you assess the interactions and dynamics within the communication climate you observed. Describe the following concepts: supportive and defensive communication climates, confirming and disconfirming responses, cohesiveness, active listening, and nonverbal dynamics. In addition to your assessment, answer the following questions: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • What types of verbal and nonverbal dynamics came into play? Explain. • What behavior indicated a supportive or defensive communication climate? Why? • What types of confirming or disconfirming responses did you witness? How did they contribute to the cohesiveness of the group? • What types of barriers or indicators to effective listening occurred? Why were they a barrier or indicator? Format your paper consistent with APA guidelines.

Discussion Questions	Respond to weekly discussion questions.	2 on Thurs, 1 on Sat	2
Individual Analyzing Personal Conflict Management Style Paper	Write a 1,400- to 1,750-word paper in which you critique conflict management style. From your critique, address the following items: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Describe at least three conflict management styles. Which conflict management style do you use most frequently? Why? Describe the difficulties you have in dealing with others who use different conflict management styles. Discuss the advantages and disadvantages of each conflict management style. Describe conflict avoidance and its interrelationship with conflict management. Reference at least five peer-reviewed outside sources. Format your paper consistent with APA guidelines.	Monday	15
Learning Team Video Analysis	Resource: University of Phoenix Media Library Select: One video from the UoP Media Library focused on this week's topic of conflict management styles. Write: A minimum 350 word team submittal that discusses the following from the video: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> What were the key points of the video? How does this correspond with your readings in the textbook? How can your team use the key points within this video to effectively manage conflict? 	Monday	2

Week Five: Leading Team Communication

	Details	Due	Points
Objectives	5.1 Analyze the role of communication in leadership. 5.2 Explain task leadership. 5.3 Summarize process leadership. 5.4 Evaluate leadership in groups and teams.
Readings	Read Ch. 9, 10, & 12 of the text. Review this week's Electronic Reserve Readings.

Week One: Java™ and Object Oriented Programming Introduction

	Details	Due	Points
Objectives	1.1 Explain the Java™ Virtual Machine (JVM). 1.2 Define object-oriented terminology. 1.3 Explain documenting, coding, compiling, executing, testing, and debugging Java™ programs.

Reading	Read the following sections in Ch. 1, "Introduction to Computers and Java," of Starting Out with Java™: Early Objects : <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Section 1.5, "What is a Program Made of?" • Section 1.6, "The Programming Process" • Section 1.7, "Object-Oriented Programming"
Reading	Read the following sections in Ch. 2, "Java Fundamentals," of Starting Out with Java™: Early Objects : <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Section 2.1, "The Parts of a Java Program" • Section 2.11, "Comments" • Section 2.12, "Programming Style"

Video	Watch the Deitel® video: "Figure 2-1: Text-printing program".
Video	Watch the Deitel® video: "Figure 2-7: Addition program that displays the sum of the two numbers".
Participation	Participate in class discussion.	4 out of 7 days	2
DQ1 Portable languages and Component Reusability	Write a 200- to 300-word short-answer response to the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Java™ is a portable language, and being an object-oriented programming language, it also encourages component reusability. How does Java™ achieve these two important features? How are these features desirable in modern software engineering? 	7/11/12	1
DQ2 Saving Account as a Class	Write a 200- to 300-word short-answer response to the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • You are a bank manager and you are helping a new bank teller understand the kind of accounts the bank offers. If a customer comes in asking to open a new savings account, the teller needs to ask what kind of account—passbook savings or certificate of deposit—the customer would like to open. Remind the customer that all accounts with our bank are insured by the FDIC. You should explain that all accounts earn some interest; a savings account's interest is compounded monthly. You should assign a unique account number after accepting the customer's initial deposit. If the customer chooses to receive statements electronically, the system will send an e-mail with a monthly statement; if the customer chooses not to, then a paper statement will be sent by mail quarterly. If savings account is a class, give an example of each of the following as it relates to that savings account. Explain your reasoning behind your example. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Superclass ○ Subclass ○ Attribute ○ Method 	7/13/12	1

Individual Create a Program	Create a program in Java™ that displays "Hello world!" Take a screen shot that shows the program's successful compilation and execution. Then submit your program along with the screen shot. Note. No points will be awarded for submitting the program alone.	7/16/12	5
Week Two: Java™ and Object-Oriented Programming Fundamentals
	Details	Due	Points
Objectives	2.1 Apply simple I/O and basic computation. 2.2 Apply classes and methods in Object-Oriented Programming. 2.3 Design, implement, test, and debug a simple Java™ program containing objects.
Reading	Read Ch. 2, "Java Fundamentals," of Starting Out with Java™: Early Objects (except sections already covered in Week One).
Reading	Read Ch. 3, "A First look at Classes and Objects," of Starting Out with Java™: Early Objects .
Video	Watch the Deitel® video: "Figure 03-01-02: GradeBook class declaration with one method; Creating a GradeBook object and calling its displayMessage method".
Video	Watch the Deitel® video: "Figure 03-04-05: Class declaration with one method that has a parameter; Create a GradeBook object and pass a String to its displayMessage method.

Participation	Participate in class discussion.	4 out 7 days	2
DQ1 Three Types of Errors	Write a 200- to 300-word short-answer response to the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • What are the three types of errors that you can encounter in a Java™ program? Describe them, and explain how you would minimize the errors. What are some examples of errors that you have seen before? 	7/18/12	1

DQ2 Blueprint for an Object	Write a 200- to 300-word short-answer response to the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A class is a blueprint for an object. A class may have a default constructor, a constructor with arguments, accessor methods, mutator methods, public fields, and private fields. Choose a category (such as animal, vehicle, and so on) and describe how you would design a class for it. 	7/20/12	1
Learning Team Quality Control Sheet	Resource: Excel scoring instrument Create a quality control (QC) sheet based on the scoring instrument. The QC sheet will be used later in this course to evaluate team members' programs. As a team, share your ideas with each other and create one common QC sheet that your team will use. Your final QC sheet should be compiled in Microsoft® Excel and must include the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Areas to enter the evaluator's name, the name of the program being evaluated, and the date the program is received • A set of detailed criteria for evaluation based on the scoring instrument • The values assigned to each component of the evaluation based on the scoring instrument • Areas for detailed evaluation comments • Other elements as appropriate Submit your team's final QC sheet to your instructor.	7/23/12	5
Individual Simple Commission Calculation Program Part 1	Write a Java™ application using NetBeans™ Integrated Development Environment (IDE) that calculates the total annual compensation of a salesperson. Consider the following factors: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A salesperson will earn a fixed salary of $75,000. • A salesperson will also receive a commission as a sales incentive. Commission is a percentage of the salesperson's annual sales. The current commission is 25% of total sales. • The total annual compensation is the fixed salary plus the commission earned. The Java™ application should meet these technical requirements: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The application should have at least one class, in addition to the application's controlling class (a controlling class is where the main function resides). • There should be proper documentation in the source code. • The application should ask the user to enter annual sales, and it should display the total annual compensation. 	7/23/12	10

Week Three: Conditional and Iterative Structures

	Details	Due	Points
Objectives	3.1 Apply standard conditional structures. 3.2 Apply standard iterative structures. 3.3 Design, implement, test, and debug a simple Java™ program containing structures.
Reading	Read Ch. 4, "Decision Structure," of Starting Out with Java™: Early Objects .

Course Description

This course focuses on the causes of, impacts of, and solutions to environmental issues. Students identify global environmental issues as well as develop and critique environmental action plans. Topics include ecosystems, energy, populations, resources, pollution, and sustainability.

Policies

Faculty and students/learners will be held responsible for understanding and adhering to all policies contained within the following two documents:

University policies: You must be logged into the student website to view this document.

Instructor policies: This document is posted in the Course Materials forum.

Week One: Environmental Issues and Sustainability

	Details	Due	Points
Objectives	1.1 Discuss human behaviors that threaten environmental sustainability. 1.2 Defend an environmental worldview. 1.3 Relate a current environmental problem with possible causes.
Course Preparation	Read the course description and objectives. Read the instructor's biography and post your own.
Readings	Read Appendix A. Read Ch. 1–4 of Visualizing Environmental Science .
Participation	Participate in class discussion. Participation required on 4 of 7 days during Week One. Post a minimum of two substantive posts on each day of participation in the Main forum. Initial responses to weekly discussion questions do not count towards participation.		10

Discussion Questions	Respond to weekly discussion questions. Post a minimum 200- to 300-word response for each question in the Main forum by due date. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Post a response in your own words defining environmental sustainability. Then, list three behaviors of your own that threaten environmental sustainability. How could you change those behaviors to reduce threats to environmental sustainability? 2. Review Ch. 2 of Visualizing Environmental Science. Post a reflection on your own worldview and compare it with the worldviews presented in the text. Provide examples of the benefits of your view to defend your position. 	Day 2, Tuesday, 11:59 PM, MST-AZ Day 4, Thursday, 11:59 PM, MST-AZ	5 5
CheckPoint Local Environmental Issue	Many environmental problems, such as the depletion of natural resources, air pollution, and overpopulation, exist throughout the world. The root of most of these problems stems from the local environment and decisions made at local levels based on lifestyle choices, such as those regarding food, transportation, and housing. Post a minimum 200- to 300-word response to the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Discuss an environmental problem you feel is significant in your town or city. • What are some causes? • Are any of these causes related to human values and environmental ethics? • Explain your answers. Include a minimum of 1 outside reference to support your views. Format your citations and references consistent with APA guidelines. Post your paper in the Assignment section.	Day 5, Friday, 11:59 PM, MST-AZ	30

Week Two: Politics and Environmental Risk
	Details	Due	Points
Objectives	2.1 Differentiate environmental conservation and preservation efforts. 2.2 Utilize the steps of risk assessment in determining adverse health impacts.
CheckPoint Conservation and Preservation	Conservation and preservation activities are currently part of all national forest management programs. The Bridger Teton Video Learning Resource (VLR) discusses one controversy between those who want to harvest the resources of one section of the forest in an environmentally friendly way and others who believe it should be left	Day 5, Friday, 11:59 PM, MST-AZ	30

Do you believe humans may harvest forest resources in an environmentally friendly way, or should national forests be left in their natural state? To which side are you inclined? Provide specific examples from the video as you defend your position. Include a minimum of 1 outside reference to support your views. Format your response according to APA guidelines. Post your paper in the Assignment section.
Individual Risk Assessment	Review the three assignment options provided in Appendix B. Select and complete one of the options in Appendix B. Note. View the video link Introduction to Differentiated Assignment Options before beginning this assignment located on your student website. Resources: Appendix B and Ch. 4 Figure 4.1 of Visualizing Environmental Science. <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Read Risk Assessment of Malathion in Appendix B.• Create an outline in your paper or presentation on the risk of using Malathion according to the four steps of the Risk Assessment process that is presented in Ch. 4 Figure 4.1. The outline should be integrated into the body of your paper or presentation and not submitted as a separate attachment.<ul style="list-style-type: none">○ Hazard identification○ Dose-response○ Exposure○ Risk characterization• Decide your vote for the city council based on your outline. Include a minimum of 1 outside reference to support your views. Format your citations and references consistent with APA guidelines. Post your paper/presentation in the Assignment section.	Day 7, Sunday, 11:59 PM, MST-AZ	90

Week Three: Ecosystems
	Details	Due	Points
Objectives	3.1 Discuss the flow of energy in ecosystems. 3.2 Describe living and nonliving components of a biome. 3.3 Apply the concepts of natural selection and succession to a changing ecosystem.
Readings	Read Ch. 5–7 of Visualizing Environmental Science .
Participation	Participate in class discussion. Participation required on 4 of 7 days during Week Three. Post a minimum of two substantive posts on each day of participation in the Main forum. Initial responses to weekly discussion questions do not count towards participation.		10
Discussion Questions	Respond to weekly discussion questions. Post a minimum 200- to 300-word response for each question in the Main forum by due date. 1. Identify the fruit or vegetable you selected and relate the second law of thermodynamics to the changes in energy observed in Appendix C. How did the amount of energy gained compare to the amount of energy lost as heat at the second through fourth trophic levels?	Day 2, Tuesday, 11:59 PM, MST-AZ	5
	2. Considering the amount of energy required to produce animal-based foods and goods, should humans change their habits so they consume products closer to the bottom of the food chain because it is more efficient?	Day 4, Thursday, 11:59 PM, MST-AZ	5
CheckPoint Succession and Natural Selection	View the Ch. 6 Succession animation located in the Week Three Materials of your student web page. Post a minimum 200- to 300-word response to the following items: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> View the ecosystem succession in the animation. Is it primary or secondary? Explain your answer. Respond to Question 9 in the Critical and Creative Thinking Questions in Ch. 6 of Visualizing Environmental Science. Review natural selection to help with your response. If you need additional help with your hypothesis, refer to the following article to see an explanation of how evolution could have occurred in a population of mussels: http://evolution.berkeley.edu/evolibrary/news/060901_mussels Include a minimum of 1 outside reference to support your views. Format your paper according to APA guidelines. Post your paper in the Assignment section.	Day 5, Friday, 11:59 PM, MST-AZ	30

Week Four: Human Population and the Environment

	Details	Due	Points
Objectives	4.1 Explain the factors that produce changes in population size. 4.2 Discuss the environmental benefits and challenges of urbanization.
CheckPoint Population Size	View the Ch. 7 Alien Invasion VLR located in the Week Four Materials of your student web page. Post a minimum 200- to 300-word response to the following: Explain the four factors that produce changes in population size. Which factors affect population size in the video? What do you predict will happen to the nutria population after the land is depleted of the food resource? Include a minimum of 1 outside reference to support your views. Format your paper according to APA guidelines. Post your paper in the Assignment section.	Day 5, Friday, 11:59 PM, MST-AZ	30
Individual Urbanization	Review the three assignment options provided in Appendix H. Select and complete one of the options in Appendix H. Include a minimum of 1 outside reference to support your decision with convincing argument. Format your citations and references consistent with APA guidelines. Post your assignment in the Assignment section.	Day 7, Sunday, 11:59 PM, MST-AZ	90

Week Five: Atmospheric Issues

	Details	Due	Points
Objectives	5.1 Summarize the causes and effects of an atmospheric issue. 5.2 Discuss a key challenge to controlling air emissions. 5.3 Discuss impacts of and solutions for indoor air pollution.
Readings	Read Ch. 8–11 of Visualizing Environmental Science .
Participation	Participate in class discussion. Participation required on 4 of 7 days during Week Five. Post a minimum of two substantive posts on each day of participation in the Main forum. Initial responses to weekly discussion questions do not count towards participation.		10
Discussion Questions	Respond to weekly discussion questions.

	1. Go to the Emissions Calculator Web site at http://airhead.cnt.org/Calculator/?sid=a743a150a5f5ff4c72817e723b7c8c14 Fill out the survey to the best of your knowledge to calculate the total pounds of air pollution your household emits. Post a minimum 200- to 300-word response in the Main forum to the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ What was your highest contributor? ○ What can you do to lower your total? ○ What is your greatest challenge in lowering your total? ○ When you review other students' posts, suggest how they might control air emissions for their situations. 2. Hoboken, NJ: John Wiley & Sons. Format your response according to APA guidelines. Post as a Word document in the Assignment section.	Day 5, Friday, 11:59 PM, MST-AZ	30

Week Six: Water Resource Issues

	Details	Due	Points
Objectives	6.1 Identify the impact of human activities on a water resource. 6.2 Formulate a sustainable plan to manage a water resource.

CheckPoint Water Resource Challenges	Complete the Water Resource Challenges table in Appendix E by briefly identifying three freshwater and three ocean water resource issues. Avoid use of vague terms. Be specific in your description for the Appendix E table. Respond to the questions provided below the table by posting a minimum 200- to 300-word response. Include a minimum of 1 outside reference to support your views. Format your response according to APA guidelines. Post as a Word document to the Assignment section.	Day 5, Friday, 11:59 PM, MST-AZ	30
Individual Water Resource Plan	Review the four (4) assignment options provided in Appendix I. Use Appendix I as a guide developing your sustainment plan. Select and complete one of the options. Include a minimum of 2 outside references to support your views. Format your citations and references consistent with APA guidelines. Post your assignment to the Assignment section.	Day 7, Sunday, 11:59 PM, MST-AZ	90

Week Seven: Terrestrial Resource Issues
	Details	Due	Points
Objectives	7.1 Describe challenges associated with managing a terrestrial resource. 7.2 Formulate a sustainable plan to manage a terrestrial resource.
Readings	Read Ch. 12–18 of Visualizing Environmental Science .
Participation	Participate in class discussion. Participation required on 4 of 7 days during Week Seven. Post a minimum of two substantive posts on each day of participation in the Main forum. Initial responses to weekly discussion questions do not count towards participation.		10
Discussion Questions	Respond to weekly discussion questions. 1. View the Don't Say Goodbye VLR located under the Week Seven Materials section of your student Web page. Post a minimum 200- to 300-word response in the Main forum to the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Identify a viewpoint given in the video that highlights the importance of biodiversity. ○ Do you believe that every species is connected to 	Day 2, Tuesday, 11:59 PM, MST-AZ	5

Choose one of the following terrestrial resource challenges: loss of agricultural land or reducing solid waste Post a minimum 200- to 300-word response in the Main forum to the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ What are the challenges of managing your chosen terrestrial resource issue? ○ What human activities contribute to the problem? 	Day 4, Thursday, 11:59 PM, MST-AZ	5
CheckPoint Terrestrial Resource Plan	Choose a terrestrial resource issue discussed in Ch. 12–16 of the text. Post a 5- to 7-slide Microsoft® PowerPoint® presentation that includes the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A brief description of the issue • A management and sustainment plan for the resource • Challenges or implications of your plan Use Appendix F as a guide when developing your sustainment plan. Include speaker notes for each slide to provide your plan's details. Include a minimum of 1 outside reference to support your views. Format your citations and references consistent with APA guidelines. Post as a PowerPoint attachment in the Assignment section.	Day 5, Friday, 11:59 PM, MST-AZ	30

Week Eight: Energy Issues

	Details	Due	Points
Objectives	8.1 Describe challenges associated with energy resource management. 8.2 Formulate a plan for energy conservation education.
CheckPoint Energy Resource Challenges	View the Alternative Energy VLR located in the Week Eight Materials of your student web page. Post a minimum 200- to 300-word response to the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Describe all of the renewable energy alternatives presented in the video. • What are some challenges with using and managing these alternatives? • Name at least one other renewable energy resource not presented in the video. 	Day 5, Friday, 11:59 PM, MST-AZ	30

	Include a response to the following statement: Nonrenewable energy resources include coal, oil, and natural gas. Describe three common challenges with managing nonrenewable energy resources.
Individual Energy Resource Plan	Review the three assignment options provided in Appendix J. Select and complete one of the options. Include a minimum of 2 outside references to support your views. Format your citations and references consistent with APA guidelines. Post your assignment to the Assignment section.	Day 7, Sunday, 11:59 PM, MST-AZ	90

Week Nine: Core Concepts Application
	Details	Due	Points
Objectives	9.1 Rationalize a sustainable plan for addressing an environmental issue. 9.2 Evaluate mitigation strategies and solutions to an environmental problem.
Participation	Participate in class discussion. Participation required on 4 of 7 days during Week Nine. Post a minimum of two substantive posts on each day of participation in the Main forum. Initial responses to weekly discussion questions do not count towards participation.		10
Capstone Discussion Question	Respond to the capstone discussion question. If you were an environmental researcher given funding to assist with one environmental issue, on which of the following topics would you spend your funds? Human population Atmospheric pollution Water resources Terrestrial resources Energy conservation What influenced your choice? What would be the ultimate goal of your research?	Day 3, Wed., 11:59 PM, MST-AZ	10
Final Project Mitigation Strategies and Solutions	Resource: Appendix A Use the topic you chose for the Capstone Discussion Question or choose another topic you have learned about over the past 8 weeks.	Day 7, Sunday, 11:59 PM, MST-AZ	300

	Focus on a specific environmental problem in your topic. Your topic, for example, could be atmospheric issues, and your problem could be global warming. Write a 1,750- to 2,100-word paper that formulates a mitigation plan for your specific environmental problem. Include the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Detailed description of the problem • Nonliving and living factors that contribute to or are affected by the problem • Positive or negative human effects • Evaluation of current sustainability strategies and solutions • Your plan to reach sustainability; see Appendix F • Benefits and challenges of your plan • Required government, societal, and global support Include at least four (4) outside sources. Two of the sources must be peer-reviewed. If you need assistance with identifying a peer-reviewed article, review Appendix G. Format your paper consistent with APA guidelines. Post your assignment to the Assignment section. No late Final Projects will be accepted after the final day of class.

Course Description

This course evaluates the process of conducting business research for improving decision making within an organization. Students will learn to apply an understanding of commonly employed business research techniques to improve a situation, solve a problem, or change a process. Other topics include problem framing, data collection, data analysis, and data presentation.

Policies

Faculty and students/learners will be held responsible for understanding and adhering to all policies contained within the following two documents:

- University policies: You must be logged into the student website to view this document.
- Instructor policies: This document is posted in the Course Materials forum.

University policies are subject to change. Be sure to read the policies at the beginning of each class. Policies may be slightly different depending on the modality in which you attend class. If you have recently changed modalities, read the policies governing your current class modality.

Week One: Recognizing the Situation
	Details	Due	Points
Objectives	1.1 Recognize a situation, problem, issue, or opportunity that needs addressing. 1.2 Determine the significance, scope, magnitude, and feasibility of finding a solution to the situation, problem, issue, or opportunity. 1.3 Identify ethical issues involved in business research. 1.4 Describe the business research process.
Readings	Read Ch. 1 of Business Research Methods. Read Ch. 2 of Business Research Methods. Read Ch. 3 of Business Research Methods. Read Ch. 4 of Business Research Methods.
Discussion Questions, Participation	Participate in class discussion. Respond to weekly discussion questions.	Participation is daily, DQs due Days 2, 4, 6	4
Individual Current Events in Business Research	Write a 300-word summary of the business research process by describing the business research process from your experience in the workplace or in an article you find through the University Library. Be sure to exhibit in your paper your understanding of the material discussed in this week's readings, particularly Chapters 1 and 4. Format your paper consistent with APA guidelines and submit your paper to the assignments section of your student website.	Day 7	5

Week Two: The Purpose of Business Research
	Details	Due	Points
Objectives	2.1 State the purpose of the business research. 2.2 Develop appropriate research questions and hypotheses. 2.3 Identify dependent and independent variables in business research.
Readings	Read Ch. 5 of Business Research Methods . Read Ch. 6 of Business Research Methods . Read Ch. 11 of Business Research Methods . Review Ch. 3 of Business Research Methods .
Discussion Questions, Participation	Participate in class discussion. Respond to weekly discussion questions.	Participation is daily, DQs due Days 2, 4, 6	4
Individual Business Research Ethics	Resources: The University Library or the Electronic Reserve Readings Find an article using the University Library or in the Electronic Reserve Readings that discusses unethical business research conduct that has resulted in individuals or a firm being convicted, or at least tried for, this conduct. Some examples include the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Asking inappropriate questions • Skewing research results • Failing to maintain participants' confidential information • Using participant information for unintended purposes such as selling goods or services Summarize the article you researched. Write a 750-word paper in which you address the following questions: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • What unethical research behavior was involved? • Who were the injured parties? • How has the unethical behavior affected the organization, the individual, and society? • How could the unethical behavior be avoided or resolved? Program Council

The Academic Program Councils for each college oversee the design and development of all University of Phoenix curricula. Council members include full-time and practitioner faculty members who have extensive experience in this discipline. Teams of full-time and practitioner faculty content experts are assembled under the direction of these Councils to create specific courses within the academic program.

Course Overview

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course gives an overview of physical geology by introducing concepts such as plate tectonics and geologic time. Students gain familiarity with the processes that shape the earth's surface and recognize the relevance of studying geology. Topics include the rock cycle, weathering, formation of geological features, and preservation of geological resources.

TOPICS AND OBJECTIVES

Week One: Introduction to Earth and Plate Tectonics

- Describe basic concepts of geology.
- Identify the evolutionary processes of Earth.
- Use techniques to identify minerals.
- Describe the theory of plate tectonics.

Week Two: Geologic Time and Sedimentary Rocks, Part I

- Compare ways of evaluating geologic time.
- Explain the role of fossils in development of the Geologic Column.
- Explain the role of plate tectonics in the origin of sedimentary rock.
- Distinguish between the effects of weathering and erosion.

Week Three: Geologic Time and Sedimentary Rocks, Part II

- Compare ways of evaluating geologic time.
- Explain the role of fossils in the development of the Geologic Column.
- Explain the role of plate tectonics in the origin of sedimentary rock.
- Distinguish between the effects of weathering and erosion.

Week Four: Igneous and Metamorphic Rocks, Part I

- Explain the role of plate tectonics in the origin of igneous and metamorphic rocks.
- Compare extrusive and intrusive igneous rocks.
- Compare faults and folds.
- Interpret structures from topographic and geologic maps.

Week Five: Igneous and Metamorphic Rocks, Part II

- Explain the role of plate tectonics in the origin of igneous and metamorphic rocks.
- Compare extrusive and intrusive igneous rocks.
- Compare faults and folds.
- Interpret structures from topographic and geologic maps.

Week Six: Water, Desert, and Climate, Part I

- Explain the pathways of the hydrologic cycle.
- Describe processes involved with creating desert landscapes.
- Describe the effects of glacial action on land formation.
- Hypothesize the future effect of climate change on the Earth.

Week Seven: Water, Desert, and Climate, Part II

- Explain the pathways of the hydrologic cycle.
- Describe processes involved with creating desert landscapes.
- Describe the effects of glacial action on land formation.
- Hypothesize the future effect of climate change on the Earth.

Week Eight: Earth's Resources and Geological Regions, Part I

- Identify historical events influenced by the depletion of natural resources.
- Distinguish between renewable and nonrenewable resources.
- Assess the use of fossil fuels and minerals.
- Apply basic geologic concepts to geologic features.

Week Nine: Earth's Resources and Geological Regions, Part II

- Identify historical events influenced by the depletion of natural resources.
- Distinguish between renewable and nonrenewable resources.
- Assess the use of fossil fuels and minerals.
- Apply basic geologic concepts to geologic features.

GRHampton@phoenix.com (University of Phoenix)
GeorgeHampton@prodigy.net (Personal)
630.247.1352 (Central)
- Facilitator Availability

I am available from 5 PM - 9 PM Central Time on most days, but I attempt to reserve Sunday for my family. During the week, I am online most of the time during that 4 PM to 9 PM time frame.

On Saturdays, I tend to be online in the morning only. If these times are not convenient for you, please let me know. I will be happy to accommodate your schedule, if possible. I provide you with these times to make it easier to communicate with me, and not to limit our contact.

5 - 9 pm Monday - Thursday
 5 - 9 pm Sunday

- For emergencies, when you are not able to gain access to messages on the Online Learning System (OLS), please send a message to my personal email address. In the event a third party needs to contact me, please direct them to my contact information listed under "facilitator information." No third party should use your login credentials to gain access to the classroom.

• Where to go to Class

Main: This is the main forum for the class and is where discussion is conducted. It has read-and-write access for everyone.

Chat-Room: This is a read-and-write access forum. It is designed as a place to discuss issues not related to the course content. This is the forum to which we will send our bios.

Course-Materials: This is a read-only forum, which means you can read messages here but cannot send any. This is where I will post the course syllabus and materials.

Individual Forum: You will see one forum with your name on it. This is a private forum, shared only by you and me, the facilitator. Your classmates will not have access to this forum. You can also ask questions here. However, if you have general questions about instructions of assignments, please post those in the Main forum, since other students may benefit by that exchange as well.

- Policies

For class policies, please see the Policies link on the left side of the Materials page for the course on eCampus. Faculty and students/learners will be held responsible for understanding and adhering to all policies contained within that link. University policies are subject to change so please be sure to read them at the beginning of each class as it may have changed since your last class. Policies may be slightly different depending on the modality in which you attend class. If you have recently changed modalities it is important you read the policies governing your current class modality.

- Certificate of Originality

- The University has implemented the use of the Certificate of Originality (CoO) to increase awareness of Academic Integrity effective for all courses after January 1, 2011. The University places a high priority on maintaining Academic Integrity and ensuring that proper credit is being given for others' words and ideas used in the development of your written assignments.
- The Certificate of Originality document should be completed by typing your name in the appropriate field at the bottom of the form. When you post an assignment to the Assignments link, also post an electronically signed copy of the Certificate of Originality at the same time.
- A copy of the Certificate can be found in the Materials Forum of the class. You can find it located at the Center for Writing Excellence under Writing & Style Guides.

- Technical Support

Technical Support is available 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. Call 1-877-832-4867, or use the e-mail support form.

Answers to the most common issues are found in the Knowledge Base by clicking Help, found at the top of every student Web site.

- Feedback

Each week, I will provide grades or scores and comments on your assignments. I will send feedback to your Assignments Link and post an overall weekly feedback in the Grade Book. Take a little time with both feedbacks to get a full review of your progress during the week

TOPICS AND OBJECTIVES

Introduction to Earth and Plate Tectonics

- Describe basic concepts of geology.
- Identify the evolutionary processes of Earth.
- Use techniques to identify minerals.
- Describe the theory of plate tectonics.

Weekly Overview

This week, we describe the basic concepts of geology and identify the evolutionary processes that have formed the Earth. We learn the standard techniques used to identify minerals and gain insight into the theory of plate tectonics.

Assignment Notes

Assignment: Mineral Lab

Purpose of Assignment

This assignment introduces the standard field techniques used to identify minerals.

Resources Required

Assignment: Basic Geology BrochurePurpose of Assignment

Introduces the basic concepts of physical geology.

Resources Required

Brochure Creator at

<https://ecampus.phoenix.edu/secure/aapd/Interaction/BrochureBuilder/brochurebuilder.html>

Grading Guide

Describe the basic topics of physical geology: what geologists do and how they do it, some day-to-day applications of the science, and so forth. Further, explain the basics of plate tectonics. Address the overall definition of plate tectonics, the role of plates and mantle convection, and the physical features that result from this process. Posted in Main is a "Weekly Highlights" posting that contains additional information of the assignments for the week. Review this posting at the start of the week. It will help you complete the assignments.

Week Two Student Notes

TOPICS AND OBJECTIVES

Geologic Time and Sedimentary Rocks, Part I

- Compare ways of evaluating geologic time.
- Explain the role of fossils in the development of the Geologic Column.
- Explain the role of plate tectonics in the origin of sedimentary rock.
- Distinguish between the effects of weathering and erosion.

Weekly Overview

In Weeks Two and Three, we explore the different ways geologists evaluate geologic time. The role of fossils in developing the Geologic column will be discussed. Students will be introduced to sedimentary rocks, the role of plate tectonics in their origin, and the effects of weathering and erosion.

Assignment Notes

Discussion Questions are due this week.

DQ # 1 – What is absolute Dating? What is relevant dating? What are some real world applications of these techniques?

DQ # 2 - What are examples of mechanical and chemical weathering in your area?

TOPICS AND OBJECTIVES

Geologic Time and Sedimentary Rocks, Part II

- Compare ways of evaluating geologic time.
- Explain the role of fossils in the development of the Geologic Column.
- Explain the role of plate tectonics in the origin of sedimentary rock.
- Distinguish between the effects of weathering and erosion.

Weekly Overview

In Weeks Two and Three, we explore the different ways geologists evaluate geologic time. The role of fossils in developing the Geologic column will be discussed. We will be introduced to sedimentary rocks, the role of plate tectonics in their origin, and the effects of weathering and erosion.

Assignment Notes

Assignment: Geologic Time Display

Purpose of Assignment

The purpose is to assess our knowledge of geologic time and the role of fossils in dating Earth materials.

Resources Required

Associate Program Material: Geologic Time
 Associate Program Material: Geologic Time Worksheet
 AudioAce™ at <http://host7721.mytruvirtual.com/AudioAceHHS/?v=2>

Grading Guide

Complete the worksheet, record a discussion, or create a slideshow demonstrating knowledge of geologic time, its definition, development, and application to geology.

Assignment: Sedimentary Rock Display

Purpose of Assignment

Demonstrate our understanding of sedimentary rock origins and characteristics as well as the role of weathering and erosion in forming these types of rocks.

Resources Required

Associate Program Material: Sedimentary Rock
 Associate Program Material: Sedimentary Rock Worksheet
 AudioAce at <http://host7721.mytruvirtual.com/AudioAceHHS/?v=2>

Grading Guide

Demonstrate an understanding of the origins and characteristics of sedimentary rocks by completing the worksheet, oral presentation, or Microsoft® PowerPoint® presentation. Be able to distinguish between weathering and erosion, and the role of these processes on the life cycle of this type of rock. . Posted in Main is a "Weekly Highlights" posting that contains additional information of the assignments for the week. Review this posting at the start of the week. It will help you complete the assignments.

Week Four Student Notes

TOPICS AND OBJECTIVES

Igneous and Metamorphic Rocks, Part I

- Explain the role of plate tectonics in the origin of igneous and metamorphic rocks.
- Compare extrusive and intrusive igneous rocks.
- Compare faults and folds.
- Interpret structures from topographic and geologic maps.

Weekly Overview

In Weeks Four and Five, we are introduced to igneous and metamorphic rocks, the role of plate tectonics in their origin, and the effects of weathering and erosion. Folds and faults are also discussed, and topographic and geologic maps are explored.

Assignment Notes

Discussion Questions are due this week.

DQ # 1 - View the Understanding Faults animation on the student website. If the San Andreas Fault, located in California, continues its activity, what does the future look like for that area? What precautions should be taken?

DQ # 2 – What are the major differences between topographic and geologic maps? What are some practical applications for these maps?

TOPICS AND OBJECTIVES

Igneous and Metamorphic Rocks, Part II

- Explain the role of plate tectonics in the origin of igneous and metamorphic rocks.
- Compare extrusive and intrusive igneous rocks.
- Compare faults and folds.
- Interpret structures from topographic and geologic maps.

Weekly Overview

In Weeks Four and Five, we are introduced to igneous and metamorphic rocks, the role of plate tectonics in their origin, and the effects of weathering and erosion. Folds and faults are also discussed, and topographic and geologic maps are further explored.

Assignment Notes

Assignment: Comparison Worksheet

Purpose of Assignment

This assignment allows us to explore the differences between extrusive and intrusive igneous rocks. The assignment provides an opportunity to discover the major characteristics of faults and folds.

Resources Required

Associate Program Material: Comparison Worksheet

Grading Guide

Identify the origins of extrusive and intrusive igneous rocks as well as identify them. Further, demonstrate an understanding of how folds and faults are formed and be able to identify them.

Assignment: History of Rock

Purpose of Assignment

This assignment is meant to guide us through the origins of igneous and metamorphic rocks and the role plate tectonics plays in their formation.

Resources Required

Associate Program Material: History of Rock Worksheet

Grading Guide

Provide a two-section report detailing the role of plate tectonics in the origins of igneous and metamorphic rocks. Posted in Main is a "Weekly Highlights" posting that contains additional information of the assignments for the week. Review this posting at the start of the week. It will help you complete the assignments.

Week Six Student Notes

TOPICS AND OBJECTIVES

Water, Desert, and Climate, Part I

- Explain the pathways of the hydrologic cycle.
- Describe processes involved with creating desert landscapes.
- Describe the effects of glacial action on land formation.
- Hypothesize the future effect of climate change on the Earth.

Weekly Overview

In Weeks Six and Seven, we are introduced to the pathways of the hydrologic cycle. We will be exposed to the processes involved in creating desert landscapes and the effects of glaciations on land formation. Finally, we will explore the future of climate change on our planet.

Assignment Notes

Discussion Questions are due this week.

DQ # 1 – What are some of the areas around the world that have been affected by glacial action? How is this evident today?

DQ # 2 – What are at least four possible consequences of global warming? How can sustainable living practices affect these possibilities?

Weekly Overview

In Weeks Six and Seven, we are introduced to the pathways of the hydrologic cycle. We will be exposed to the processes involved in creating desert landscapes and the effects of glaciations on land formation. Finally, we will explore the future of climate change on our planet.

Assignment Notes

Assignment: The Effects of Water Diagrams

Purpose of Assignment

This assignment provides us with the opportunity to explore the hydrologic cycle and the characteristics of deserts.

Resources Required

A sample of this looks something like the one below from the USGS but doesn't have to be as colorful or graphic. Your diagram is intended to demonstrate your understanding of what water does to the environment.

If you are interested in seeing or tracking a drop of water through the process use this link to access the USGS:
<http://ga.water.usgs.gov/edu/followadrip.html>

Grading Guide

Create two diagrams. The first diagram should illustrate the hydrologic cycle and explain the role of water in the creation of land formations. The second diagram should explain the various processes that create desert landscapes. The diagrams should be logical and informative, though no specific format for the diagram is required. Posted in Main is a "Weekly Highlights" posting that contains additional information of the assignments for the week. Review this posting at the start of the week. It will help you complete the assignments.

Assignment: Climate Change Proposal

Purpose of Assignment

This assignment gives us the opportunity to voice our hypothesis of the future of climate change on Earth. Using the information they learned this week and throughout the session, we should show the effects of global climate change on a specific location and what they think we should do to mitigate the negative consequences.

Resources Required

Associate Program Material: Climate Change Proposal
Topographical maps obtained at www.usgs.gov

Grading Guide

Demonstrate an understanding of the overall effects of global warming and climate change on the rising sea level. Use the maps to demonstrate the negative effects of the rising sea level and propose solutions to climate change. Include a call to action describing what can be done to help reduce, postpone, or eliminate potential threats. Posted in Main is a "Weekly Highlights" posting that contains additional information of the assignments for the week. Review this posting at the start of the week. It will help you complete the assignments.

Week Eight Student Notes

TOPICS AND OBJECTIVES

Earth's Resources and Geological Regions, Part I

- Identify historical events influenced by the depletion of natural resources.
- Distinguish between renewable and nonrenewable resources.
- Assess the use of fossil fuels and minerals.
- Apply basic geologic concepts to geologic features.

Weekly Overview

In Weeks Eight and Nine, We explore historical events directly influenced by the depletion of natural resources. We will discover the differences between renewable and nonrenewable resources, and assess our current uses of fossil fuels and minerals. Finally, we apply the geologic concepts they have learned throughout this class to features of their chosen region.

Assignment Notes

Discussion Questions are due this week.

DQ # 1 - What is the difference between renewable resources and nonrenewable resources? Provide several examples of each of these types based on resources you use personally. What are the pros and cons of using them?

DQ # 2 - What renewable and nonrenewable resources do you use in your daily life? What are some things you could do to decrease the amount of nonrenewable resources you use?

Week Nine Student Notes

TOPICS AND OBJECTIVES

Earth's Resources and Geological Regions, Part II

- Identify historical events influenced by the depletion of natural resources.
- Distinguish between renewable and nonrenewable resources.
- Assess the use of fossil fuels and minerals.
- Apply basic geologic concepts to geologic features.

Weekly Overview

In Weeks Eight and Nine, we explore historical events directly influenced by the depletion of natural resources. We will discover the differences between renewable and nonrenewable resources, and assess our current uses of fossil fuels and minerals. Finally, we apply the geologic concepts they have learned throughout this class to features of their chosen region.

Assignment Notes

Assignment: Resource Timeline

Purpose of Assignment

The timeline is used to provide an understanding of how humans' use of Earth's resources has affected our planet.

Resources Required

Associate Program Material: Resource Timeline
Associate Program Material: Resource Worksheet

Grading Guide

Two options. In the first, complete the University of Phoenix Material: Resource Worksheet, identifying historical events in human history that have lead to global climate change and assess the use of fossil fuels and minerals. Identify the differences between renewable and nonrenewable resources. In the second, develop a timeline in which you include at least five historical events that have lead to the use of Earth's resources, such as the invention of the automobile, assess humans' use of fossil fuels and minerals, and compare renewable and nonrenewable resources. Posted in Main is a "Weekly Highlights" posting that contains additional information of the assignments for the week. Review this posting at the start of the week. It will help you complete the assignments.

Final Project: Geologic Feature Presentation

Purpose of Assignment

This final project is meant to review what we have learned over the session and apply the concepts to a specific geologic feature.

Grading Guide

Thoroughly cover all criteria in your presentation. Apply each concept to your chosen feature. The feature should have been chosen early in the class. By now you have had a chance to add to the discussion slides each week as we have progressed through our studies.

Discussion Questions are due this week.

DQ # 1 – The world is now dependent on renewable and nonrenewable resources of fossil fuels and minerals. As the world's population increases, how will we need to adjust in the future?

DQ # 2 - How do you think your knowledge of basic geologic concepts will benefit you in the future?

Course Description

This course is an introduction to image editing and its role in the disciplines of web design, electronic publishing and multimedia development. An overview is presented on image editing software applications, file formats, composition, color, text design, retouching, and manipulation of graphic and photographic images.

Policies

Faculty and students/learners will be held responsible for understanding and adhering to all policies contained within the following two documents:

- University policies: You must be logged into the student website to view this document.
- Instructor policies: This document is posted in the Course Materials forum.

University policies are subject to change. Be sure to read the policies at the beginning of each class. Policies may be slightly different depending on the modality in which you attend class. If you have recently changed modalities, read the policies governing your current class modality.

Course Description

This course introduces development tools and techniques used to publish web pages on the World Wide Web.

Students use basic hypertext markup language, scripting, and presentational technologies to create websites with the aid of a software authoring application. Topics include XHTML, CSS, JavaScript®, server hosting, site publication, site maintenance, and search engine optimization.

Policies

Faculty and students/learners will be held responsible for understanding and adhering to all policies contained within the following two documents:

- University policies: You must be logged into the student website to view this document.
- Instructor policies: This document is posted in the Course Materials forum. University policies are subject to change. Be sure to read the policies at the beginning of each class. Policies may be slightly different depending on the modality in which you attend class. If you have recently changed modalities, read the policies governing your current class modality.

for Redesign

In week 1 you will work with your LT to create your LT charter. Have one member of your LT submit the final charter to the LT assignment drop box by Monday, end of week 1.

LT Assignment Overview:

Learning Teams will be assigned a Virtual Organization website. Teams will evaluate the use of design principles within the site. They will also propose recommendations for improvements to the site and use a web design tool, such as Adobe® Dreamweaver®, to develop a visual mockup. Each Learning Team must submit a 10- to 12-page written evaluation of the existing website, including recommendations for improvement and a prototype of proposed changes due in Week Five. The requirements for this project include the following:

Work together to create a list of essential design criteria for evaluating a website.

- Create a comprehensive list of design features from the list each person created during Week One.
- Organize the list under category headings. Create your own headings or use those provided on the sample checklist.
- Prioritize the list and keep only the top 20 design criteria.

Evaluate the site to determine the intended purpose and audience.

Complete a comparative review of two sites with purposes and audiences similar to those of the Virtual Organization site you are evaluating. Use the design criteria developed by the team for the review.

Evaluate the use of design principles within the Virtual Organization site using the design criteria developed within the team.

Propose recommendations for improvement based on the evaluations.

Create a redesigned homepage prototype and a redesigned secondary page prototype. For the prototype, Adobe® Dreamweaver® is recommended.

Prepare a 10- to 12-page written evaluation due in Week Five of the existing website, to include the following:

- The Virtual Organization being evaluated, its purpose, and intended audience
- The list of design criteria created by the team, including a description of why each was considered to be important
- The results of the comparative review of sites
- A detailed analysis of the selected Virtual Organization site based on the chosen design criteria that includes graphics, figures, images screen mockups, and descriptive text where appropriate

- Recommendations for improvements to the site based on the design analysis and the inclusion of metadata to promote the website

- A description of proposed changes

Individual

Website Design and Development:

Checklist

Throughout the course, you design and develop a website about your profession, hobbies, or interests. The site must consist of 3 to 5 web pages. Your target audience will be other professionals in your field or potential employers.

Identify the type of website you are interested in completing for this course.

Demonstrate the following characteristics:

- Effective file management
- Accurate and functional markup code
- Effective and functional navigation

Complete a comparative and competitive analysis of websites using the supplied worksheet. Choose two sites that are similar to the one you are planning for the analysis.

Submit your analysis to your assignment drop box by Monday, end of week 1.

Part 1

A website plan serves as a blueprint for developing a website. The plan identifies the purpose of the site, your audience, and the specific content and features that must be added to the site to accomplish the site's objectives.

Complete a First Draft of your Website Plan, using a Microsoft® Word document or a Microsoft® PowerPoint® presentation, that addresses the following areas:

- Topic
- Purpose

- o Why do you need this site?
- o Why do your visitors need this site?
- Audience
- o Brief description of target audience
- o General geographic location of audience
- o Estimate number of people
- o Estimate average age
- o Familiarity with computers and Internet
- o Key target audience insight – Most compelling thing you want the audience to think, learn or do as a result of visiting the site
- A visual mockup of the layout of your site's home page using drawing tools in a Microsoft® Word document, a Microsoft®

Part 2

Create a homepage for your planned site that demonstrates effective application of design elements. Use Adobe® Dreamweaver® or another HTML editor to create a basic web page based on the web plan you have developed. This page is the homepage of your website. Save your site homepage as index.html or default.html.

Check your HTML code using the Markup Validation Service on the W3C® website, (www.w3.org) prior to submitting your web page(s).

Submit all website files in a compressed folder.

Details Due Points

Objectives 3.1 Design effective navigation.

3.2 Create internal, external, and anchor hyperlinks in a website.

3.3 Integrate multimedia files into a web page.

3.4 Create styles for a website using cascading style sheets.

Add a Site Map to your web plan. This will be a diagram, similar to an organizational chart, that shows a visual mapping of your site and how the pages will be linked together.

Part 2 – Expand the basic homepage from Week Two Expand the basic homepage from Week Two to a site that includes at least 3 web pages. Incorporate the following into your expanded website:

- Apply Cascading Style Sheets (CSS) to format elements.
- Integrate multimedia effectively into the site.
- Create effective navigation for the site so that people can move easily between the pages.
- Organize page content using structural elements, such as headings, paragraphs, tables, and lists.
- Use internal, external, and anchor links in the site.
- Apply usability best practices and principles of design.

Check your HTML code using the Markup Validation Service on the W3C® website, (www.w3.org) prior to submitting your web page(s). A link to this site may be found in the Materials tab on your student website.

for Redesign

Create a redesigned homepage prototype as well as a redesigned secondary page prototype due in Week Five. For the prototype, Adobe® Dreamweaver® is recommended.

Finalize your Website Evaluation Paper due in Week Five, which must include the following:

- The virtual organization being evaluated, their purpose, and intended audience
- The list of design criteria created by the team, including a description of why each was considered to be important
- The results of the comparative review of sites
- A detailed analysis of the selected Virtual Organization site

Part 1 – Add to Website Plan

List at least three interactive features that could be added to your site and what purpose each would serve for your site and its visitors. The form created in Part Two of this assignment can be included as one of the interactive features.

Part 2 – Refine and finalize your website

Refine and finalize your website by doing the following:

- Add a simple web form—such as an order form, a subscription to a newsletter, or a request for contact.
- Use division or a table to structure the form elements.

15

Course Syllabus

WEB/240

Optional Discussion Questions

Note: I may provide practice exercises in addition to a traditional discussion question so that you are exposed to more hands-on practice in a collaborative environment with your peers. Check the Materials folder each week in our classroom folder list for the discussion questions assigned for that particular week.

Week One Discussion Questions

- Describe one (X)HTML tag that has not been used in a previous response to this question. What is this tag used for and how does it differ from previous tags mentioned? Is this a tag you will use on the site you create for this class? Explain why or why not.
- Select a website and compare how it looks on two different monitors, browsers, or computers running different operating systems. Make sure you look at every page of the site and then, answer the following questions:
 - o What were the two different browsers, monitors, or operating systems that you compared?
 - o What differences, if any, did you notice? What do you think caused these differences?
 - o If you did not notice any differences, describe at least one difference that might be noticed when using different browsers, operating systems, or monitors to view a web page.
- Think about the website that you plan to create for this class. Then, answer the following questions:
 - o Does the website fit into one of the purpose categories described in Table 1 of the Woodward (2009) article? If so, what category does it fit into? If not, what category would you add to the table to describe your site's purpose?
 - o What are three steps you plan to take to determine your website's goals? Use Table 2 of the Woodward (2009) article as a resource for ideas.

Week Two Discussion Questions

- Find an article that describes how files are organized on a website. What are two best practices regarding web file management that you learned from the article? How can you apply this knowledge to your personal or professional life? Cite the source of the article.
- The process of creating and maintaining a website typically involves both development and production environments. What is one reason for maintaining the two separate environments and the purpose of each? Explain. Is there a scenario for bringing the two together? Explain.

Course Syllabus

11

- According to the Korgaonkar, O'Leary, and Silverblatt (2009) article, eight design factors have been found to help attract and retain site visitors. What two of the factors do you believe could be added to the site you are building for this class? Explain. How would they be incorporated into your class site, either now or in the future? Do you think they would be effective in attracting new or repeat visitors to your site? Explain why or why not.

Week Three Discussion Questions

- What are two site examples that have images or multimedia that are used effectively on the site? Why do you think they work well on the site? Include the URLs of the sites in your response for others to view your selections.
- Based on the Drumheller (2010) article, what are three possible ways that streaming media can be used to accomplish the objectives of the organization? What are two benefits and two challenges that might be faced when implementing streaming media within the organization?
- What are some of the benefits that Cascading Style Sheets (CSS) provide? Provide a best practice when using CSS.

Week Four Discussion Questions

- What is the purpose of using JavaScript® on a website? What is a specific example of a JavaScript® application that will be beneficial on the site you are creating? Use an example other than form validation. What is the step-by-step process that would be followed to add the JavaScript® described in your example to a website?
- What is an example of a JavaScript® framework? In the framework you have described, what is an example of an application that would work well on the site you are building for the class? What is the purpose of the application and how will it enhance your site?
- Based on the Keston (2010) article, what are the advantages and disadvantages of using mashups? What is one example from the list in Table 1 of popular mashup categories that would work well on your site? How would you like the mashup to work? How would it fit with the goals for your site?

Week Five Discussion Questions

- Describe the steps you have taken to maintain and redesign your site over the past several weeks. How is the process that you followed similar to or different from how sites are maintained and redesigned in the professional environment?
- What is the process used to add content and publish the website in your workplace or another organization? How can this process be improved?

- Based on the O'Kennon (2010) article, what are the advantages and disadvantages of a content delivery network (CDN)? If you were responsible for an organizational website, what questions would you ask to determine if a CDN would be appropriate? If a decision was made to use a CDN, what criteria would you use in choosing one?

Optional Discussion Questions

Week One Discussion Questions

- What are the four basic financial statements? What is the primary purpose of each of the four basic financial statements? In your opinion, which financial statement is the most important? Explain why.
- What are debits and credits? How are debits and credits used to record business transactions? Describe the general journal. What is the purpose of journalizing transactions? What is the purpose of the general ledger and why are transactions posted there?

Week Two Discussion Questions

- What is accrual accounting? Why do generally accepted accounting principles require accrual accounting? What is the difference between accrual and cash accounting? When might an accountant use cash basis accounting without violating generally accepted accounting principles?
- What is the revenue recognition principle? What is the expense recognition principle? Why are they important to financial reporting? What are accruals? Provide examples of accruals. Why do accruals require adjusting entries?

Week Three Discussion Questions

- What are the steps in completing the accounting cycle? How do the different steps affect the financial statements? What is the effect on the financial statements of missing a step when completing the accounting cycle?
- What are the four closing journal entries? Why are they necessary? What are reversing entries? Why are they used?

Week Four Discussion Questions

- How would you calculate cost of goods sold? What items make up cost of goods sold? How does beginning and ending inventory affect cost of goods sold?
- Why are perpetual inventory systems so much more popular today than back in the early 1960s and earlier? Why would a company employing a perpetual inventory system still take a physical inventory periodically?

Week Five Discussion Questions

- What is the control environment? How does the control environment affect a company's internal controls? What are the negative and positive elements of a control environment? What are two examples of strong and weak internal controls in organizations where you have worked or have first-hand knowledge? How are these different?
- What are the key internal controls that should be in place to protect inventory for a merchandiser that sells highly desirable and very expensive inventory, such as jewelry? Would this be different if the business had a less desirable and less expensive inventory? Explain why or why not.

Discussion Questions

Week One Discussion Questions

- What are some of the ethical challenges surrounding the movie and music industries as they relate to the Internet? How has education affected your views about the practice of downloading or copying multimedia content in these fields?
- What collaboration tools have you used in your work environment or personal life? How have these information systems benefited you?

Week Two Discussion Questions

- What are some of the types of electronic commerce? How they are used today?
- Do you think that social networking tools can be relevant in the workplace? Why do you think this?

Week Three Discussion Questions

- In what ways have smart phones that incorporate wireless technologies changed the business landscape?
- What are the benefits and drawbacks of location-based applications for businesses and individual users?

Week Four Discussion Questions

- Why is the systems development life cycle important?
- The readings for this week mention six stages of the systems development life cycle. There are other models, however, that contain more than these six stages. Research some of these other models. What are their similarities and differences?

Introduction to Criminal Court Systems

Copyright © 2012, 2010, 2009 by University of Phoenix. All rights reserved.

Course Description

This course is an introduction and overview of the legal system, the participants, the courtroom process, and post conviction process of the course system. It demonstrates the connection among all participants and how they relate to each other. Additionally, the course covers the history of the court system and the different types of court at the state and federal levels.

Policies

Faculty and students will be held responsible for understanding and adhering to all policies contained within the following two documents:

- University policies: You must be logged into the student website to view this document.
- Instructor policies: This document is posted in the Course Materials forum.

University policies are subject to change. Be sure to read the policies at the beginning of each class. Policies may be slightly different depending on the modality in which you attend class. If you have recently changed modalities, read the policies governing your current class modality.

Certificate of Originality

For this course, you must post the Certificate of Originality available in our Course Materials forum for all assignments. The university has implemented this document to increase awareness of academic integrity. The university places a high priority on maintaining academic integrity and ensuring that proper credit is given for others' words and ideas used in your written assignments.

The Certificate of Originality must be completed by typing your name in the appropriate field. When you post an assignment to the Assignments link, post an electronically signed copy of the Certificate of Originality at the same time.

When posting a Learning Team assignment, the individual responsible for submitting on behalf of the team must type each person's name on the Certificate and post it at the same time the assignment is posted.

Late Assignments

Late assignments receive a 10% deduction for each day they are late if assignments are not posted by 11:59 p.m. M.S.T. on the DAY they are due. Assignments more than 2 days late will not be accepted. In addition NO papers will be accepted after the class has ended.

Technological issues are not considered valid grounds for late assignment submission. In the event of a University of Phoenix server outage, students should submit assignments to the instructor and when systems are restored, submit those assignments according to syllabus instructions. Unless an Incomplete grade has been granted, learner assignments submitted after the last day of class will not be accepted.
